Foreword

Your Editor has done me the very great honour of inviting me to write a foreword for the next issue of the B.C.S. Magazine.

I am very glad indeed to comply with this request, and thus in a small way to become associated with the Magazine of my old school.

In writing my thoughts must naturally turn back through the years to the school as I knew it. It is thirty-nine years since I left, and outwardly there has been much change during that time.

The buildings I knew so well are no longer those that you occupy. Instead you have a fine new school with many advantages which we did not enjoy. The new school, however, is situated in the same wonderful bit of country and these surroundings are in my opinion one of the greatest assets of the school.

I have only twice visited the present school and never during term time, but I have reason to know by contact with many old boys at the Royal Military College during my five years as Commandant that the spirit of the school is the same as ever and that it continues to produce the finest type of young Canadian.

As a soldier I was delighted to read in the last issue of the Magazine of the high praise given to your Cadet Corps by the District Officer Commanding on the occasion of his annual inspection. The discipline of the Corps is by no means the least of the advantages you enjoy at B.C.S. May those of you who are now at the school gain to the full the benefits to be derived from it. Your future lies in your own individual efforts. May each of you by his success in his chosen work add lustre to the name of our old school!

Shakespeare.

A distinguished Old Boy has favoured us with a Foreword. His name was in our Page of Honour two years ago on the occasion when he was in the King's New Year Honour List.

B.C.S. has two more gems in her mitre. Two of her sons have brought her as much fame as boys leaving School and College could be expected to bring. One of them won the very highest academic honours possible on leaving school: the other went to Europe, to the University considered by so many as the ne plus ultra, the very highest seat of learning, and plucked laurels there.

This is the first time that a B.C.S. boy has entered the University of McGill with the title of Scholar. These scholarships are a recent institution. The winners are described as "Scholars of the University" and their names are printed both in the University Calendar and in the annual Convocation programme. Candidates representing all the provinces of Canada, the United States and some other countries competed this year.

This is the first time that a B.C.S. boy has headed the list of Senior Matriculation matriculants, although B.C.S. boys headed the Junior Matriculation lists in 1930 and 1932.

We would fain fill pages with their praises, but are compelled to content ourselves with mediocre commendation for modesty is the hall-mark of these men . . . and, for another reason: there are boys in the School now, capable of emulating them and repeating their performance and we do not wish to discourage them by excessive limelight.

Short sermons are commendable and so are short editorials when the scribes have adequately performed their different functions: we had written a paper—a beauty—on the all-absorbing topic: "Inexact examiners and exanimated examinees" but it came under our censure and we rejected it for lack of courage to print it.

We apologize to Old Boys of more than half a century ago who may see themselves in undress uniform, in pictures which we publish from the Old Boys' Gallery of pictures, in the Old Boys' Section.

"Good Hunting" to you all again.

"Merry Christmas" Gentlemen!

MEMORIES

One day he died and travelled far away,
 Away to better lands by far, I know
 Where seeds of happiness and love do grow
 Where he is rid of troubles every day.

I think of him who died in all my prayers
 Of him whom oft I cheated without right
 He knew too well, his thoughts were bright with light
 Too good to bother; 'cause of all his cares.

And looking down from starry skies above
 I hope the loved one bears me no ill will
 For my misdoings and I hope that still
 I am to him as he to me. There's love
 Hid up above, beyond the wond'rous skies:
 Remembrance ever glows within my heart and eyes.

ECHOES

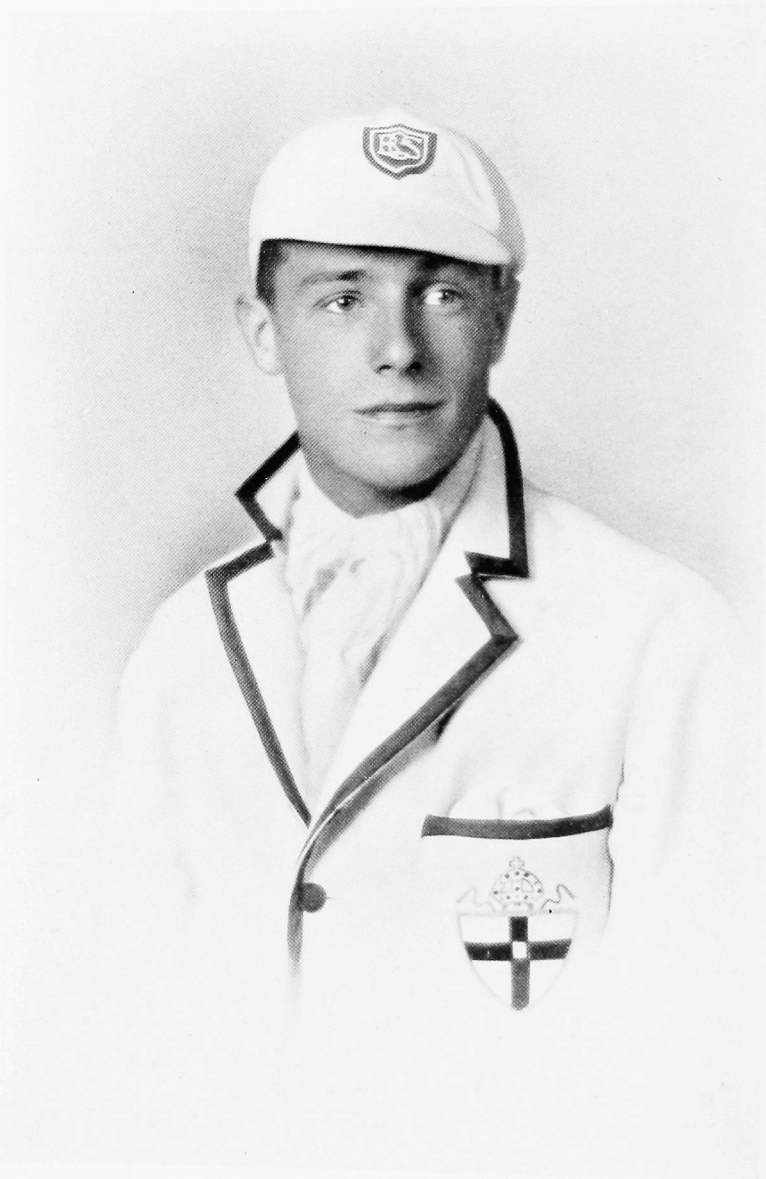

The songs they sing in Paradise
Are they re-echoed here?
Sometimes when walking in a glen,
Away from work, away from men,
When sounds are heard no hand could pen,
I heard their echoes there.

The thoughts they think in Paradise
May be re-echoed here—
At eve in holy Chapel's walls
From lips inspired the message falls;
Entranced, you half-know something calls;
I heard their echoes there.

Then burning bright from far away
The echoes breathe to you:
You shall be beautiful and strong
Like knight of old to right a wrong!
And holy thought and echoing song
Shall guard your purpose true.

And burning bright from those you love,
From those you know are true:
"You shall live fighting all your days!
You shall not walk by hidden ways!
You shall walk in the bright one's rays!"
The Echoes chime to you.

THE LONG BRIDGE WITH THE SCHOOL IN THE DISTANCE

(We take the liberty to re-print the following letter from General Sir W. C. G. Heneker because of its interest in regard to the passing of the long Wooden Bridge).

Dear Mr. Editor:—

You ask "Old Boys" to send you a note or two for the Magazine, and after reading the Lent Number I feel that I must write and congratulate you and your staff on the excellence of your publication. I am so pleased to see that the School has taken such a leading position as one of the great education establishments of Canada, and that it seems to be going stronger than ever. I had hoped to cross the Atlantic, perhaps this year, in order to visit Canada and renew old associations, but that is impossible for I have just been ordered out to India as General Officer Commanding in Chief of the Southern Command, and so I must postpone my visit to the old B.C. School for, at all events, another four years.

The sight of the Magazine recalls a host of old memories, some of them very vivid, such as my agony, when, during my initiation the evening I joined, I was shoved up on a table and made to sing. I wonder if the boys trap muskrats now and sell their skins for fifteen cents each and then use the proceeds for gorging in the confectioner's shop. This establishment was close to a Railway Crossing in Lennoxville. I cannot remember the name of the woman who kept it but she had a choice and much appreciated dish which consisted of sardines and ice cream mixed!

I wonder if the long wooden bridge, across the river still exists with its quaint notice:

"WALK OR PAY TWO DOLLARS"

The original notice had no comma after the "WALK", but one of the masters called Walker had a large comma painted at his own expense because all his friends used to chaff him and ask why he was the only person who had to pay to use the bridge.

I remember the old Gym. and my two fights in it, and also the then renowned battle with bare fists between "Duck" Ritchie and Fisk, which went about 20 rounds. The latter nearly died afterwards from the punishment he received. I shall never forget his gameness. I wonder where Ritchie and Fisk are now.* And finally I recall one of the proudest moments of my life when I was made Head Prefect. I see the proud position is now held by Blinco, and I congratulate him and wish him every luck in his future career.

Again many congratulations on your excellent Magazine and I wish the Old School and all in it every success for 1928 and for the future.

* (a propos of this we will try to get into a "Stop Press" part of some correspondence from Mr. Fiske which we have just lighted on.—Ed.)

Yours sincerely,

W. C. G. HENEKER.

AFTER 60 YEARS

(Published in connection with General Sir W. C. G. Heneker's letter on page 18)

(Extract from letter.)

Your letter speaks of "happy recollections", and while the subject may not be a pleasant one, my most prominent memory of the School is in connection with a fight which took place between me and a boy by the name of Richey in the early part of the year seventy-nine. It was, as I recollect, a drawn fight, and while I have no bitter feelings against Richey, ① I have always wished that we might engage in combat of some kind in order to settle the matter as to which should take the palm.

* * * *

Very vivid recollections remain of the Rector, Philip Reed; the head-master under him, Cecil Theodosius Cavendish Grey DeWilton Grey; Mr. Bolton, the next in line; the matron, whose name I now forget, ② a dear woman; and "Balaclava Simmy", ③, the strict old sergeant who drilled us when I was in the Fife and Drum Corps. ④.

I still have a prize which I won in the half-mile or mile run at one of the sports—a pair of fencing foils which I was handling only last Monday.

②—Was it Mrs. Davies?

③—Was that Sergeant Hamann? (Ed.).

④—According to a B.C.S. Magazine of that date this consisted of 9 piccolos, 3 dulcets, 2 little drums (1 bass), the big drum and triangle.

School Notes

We welcome to the School Mrs. Boyle, our new Matron, and hope that her stay here will be a very pleasant one.

We welcome to the staff of the Preparatory School, Mr. Henry T. Holden, B.A., of Bishop's University.

We have had the pleasure of hearing from "Matron"!—Miss McCallum. She wishes to express her heart-felt gratitude for the many tokens of friendship and good-will which were showered upon her on leaving the School.

Her address is:

Glengarry,
East Kilbride, Lanarkshire,
Scotland.

We are all looking forward to a visit from Miss McCallum some time soon.

And scour the skies,
I try to see the farthest point
To see what lies
Where never man has looked before,
To try and see the farthest shore,
To gather all forbidden lore
Beneath my eyes.

For I am not like other men,
I try to let
No star unheeded cross my sight
And never yet
Have I forgot a twinkling star,
That transverses my vision far
Elusively, for that would mar
My etiquette.

For never yet have I once made
A wild surmise,
For I tell true what actual fate
Before you lies.
For I shall never rest withal
Until my living star doth fall,
And 'till the day I've gathered all
Beneath my eyes.

 Though I am not what men require,

 My beauty brave
 I am but two-small feet in length
 No more I crave
 But I am great; no artist's lip

*I am as perfect as can be,
 For, human made,

 I'm carved from out a stately pine
 My lines are true

 Yes, I am great; no artist's lip

The opening meeting of the B.C.S. D.S. was held on Saturday, September 17th, in the Hooper Library.

HAT NIGHT

Chambers considered that Peace at a fair price was commendable provided that it did not entail loss of our self-respect. "Otherwise let us fight before it is too late," he urged.

Crichton, in considering Modern civilization, considered it inferior to that of any other age and lauded Indian customs and their civilization.

Black drew Life imprisonment vs. Capital punishment and inter alia thought that capital punishment would save the country a lot of expense.

Stewart (maiden), thought that Canada should declare herself ready to fight for Britain only if and when Britain or Canada is attacked.

Doyle was not of the opinion that It is better for a young man on leaving school to start absolutely on his own. He maintained that he should have enough money to take him through college.

Sheppard, arguing that there is inferior team work in professional games, affirmed All sports should be amateur.

Nixon (maiden), in discussing the many railway, automobile and buggy accidents, would not concede that Aeroplanes are safer than other means of transport, but admitted that the future belongs to the aeroplane.

Bishop (maiden), found himself on the horns of a dilemma when forced to decide which he preferred, Drill or lines. He chose the former, as it kept him physically fit.

Day, speaking on War for peace, agreed in toto with the president's speech and urged the house to "step in and stop them before it is too late."

Keator (maiden), drew War at any price and predicted a repetition of 1914 if war is not declared now.

Wanklyn (maiden), does not think that the Invention of machinery is responsible for unemployment. "Stop all machinery to-day" he suggested as an experiment, "and see if you can procure work for the millions you deprive of positions."

—o—

24th September.

Motion before the House:

"The expulsion of the Jews has done more harm than good to the Fascist States."

Doyle: Dwelt on the loss of man power to the state and the expulsion of Einstein.

Crichton: Declared that Jews had been leaders in Germany and led Germany; that now Hitler says: "Let Germans take their places."

Montefiore: Maintained that Germany had benefitted through the confiscation of Jewish money.

MacTier: Considered that Jews properly belong to their own country.

Holt: Said that Hitler expelled the Jews to gain popularity and that other countries were benefitting by their talent.

Chambers: "As a rabble-rouser Hitler had to have a victim and victimized the Jews."

He cited the different isms which had disunited Germany, the disunity caused by racial minorities and the unity which Hitler had procured.

Sheppard: Thought that harm has been done to the Fascist States through the loss of man power, in case of war, and through the loss of talented Jews.

Day: Considered the expulsion a very practical step and stated that we don't allow Orientals into Vancouver.

Davis: Reverently referred to a Jew who had been persecuted and whose name is now the greatest force in the world.

Black II: "Expulsion of the Jews harmed Germany through the loss of talent". He informed the House that a Jew invented poison gas which helped Germany.

Wregg: "Germany has now a unity through the expulsion of foreign blood, which will be beneficial in case of war," he maintained.

Patton: "Ladies and Gentlemen", after the uproar had subsided he referred to the harm done to Germany through the loss of great movie actors and producers.

Bishop: Argued that the expulsion made room for a greater German population.

Keator: Asserted that not only Germany but other countries would benefit by the expulsion of Jews.

The motion on being put to the House resulted in a tie and the Chairman did not exercise his privilege.

On October 1st, the motion before the House was:—“This Society disapproves of Chamberlain’s policy.”

Doyle argued that there would be never-ending claims following his policy.

Chambers declared that the premier had a choice of peace or war; had he chosen war millions of lives would have been sacrificed to save the Sudetenland.

Day stated that when Hitler claims more territory Chamberlain’s policy will have failed.

Sheppard—“Chamberlain’s policy is backed up by countless German families who lost sons in the last war and fear losing more.”

Bishop—“Chamberlain has given Germany all she wanted to carry out her policy of invasion towards Asia and Italy.”

Montefiore expounded that Chamberlain’s policy was the correction of a mistake made in 1919.

Keator was of the opinion that a young premier was needed; one who tried diplomatic force and when that failed used brute force.

Davis asserted that the premier’s policy was an emergency one and saved us from a war worse than the world war.

Patton maintained that the policy was one of restitution; giving back to Germany her own.

Crichton reasoned that the Sudetenland, apart from Germany, should never have existed, and thus Chamberlain’s emergency policy would never have arisen.

The motion was lost 4-11.

There was a meeting of the B.C.S. D.S. in the Hooper Library on Saturday evening, October the fifteenth. The motion before the House was:—“This Society is of the opinion that a strong Navy is preferable to a strong Air force for Canada’s defence.”

Speakers for the affirmative:—Doyle, Chambers, Crichton, Keator, Bayne, Montefiore.

For the negative:—Nixon, Day, Patton, Davis, Sheppard, McDonald I.

Result: For a strong Navy—6.

For a strong Army—6.

The Motion before the House, October 22nd, was:—“That Hitler is the greatest person in history.”

For the affirmative:—Davis, Bishop, Keator, Doyle, Gosselin.

Negative:—Crichton, Montefiore, Patton, Bayne, Flintoft, Sheppard.

The motion was lost.

November 5th—Motion before the House:

"Dictatorship is the best form of Government."

Montefiore—"Dictatorship is needed in Canada to amalgamate the C.P.R. and C.N.R."

Nixon—"Dictatorship dates back to 500 B.C. in Rome. They had a dictator in time of war and great national tension. Oratory is the chief weapon of a dictator. Democracy is the safest form of government."

Black II—"Practically all great empires and conquering countries throughout the ages have arisen and achieved greatness through dictators."

Sheppard—"You are not a free agent under a dictator. Dictators degrade men of genius, through fear of them as possible competitors. Mein Kampf is the Hitler Bible."

Chambers—"Dictators have made staggering progress. Dictators sat down recently in Munich, knew what they wanted, said so and got it. The representative of democracy sat down at the same table and weakly wondered what the men in London and Birmingham, reading the papers, were thinking and had to try to please them. Illustrating this weakness: France changes her government almost every month."

Day—"In times of storm and stress dictators are useful when you have a weak government quarrelling among themselves until finally all agree to trust one man."

Patton—"Dictatorship is tantamount to tyranny: democracy is the government of free peoples."

Davis—"A dictator's chief idea is war and preparation for war."

Keator—"Freedom of speech, of voting, of argument are the distinguishing qualities of a democracy. Recently a grandfather said something to his granddaughter who repeated it; the old man was put in a concentration camp for twelve years."

Stewart—"Every ruler is trying to do the best for his country. Hitler is grabbing the best for his."

Flintoft—"Cheering is forced for a dictator; for the King it is spontaneous. Under dictatorship a radio has been invented that has a radius of 20 miles to keep people in ignorance of outside affairs. England should have been strong enough to intervene at the time of the invasion of China or, during the Ethiopian struggle or, firmly, during the invasions of Austria and Czechoslovakia. No dictatorship has ever lasted as long as the British Empire."

The Motion was lost 3-9.

There was a meeting of the B.C.S. D.S. on Saturday evening, November the twelfth in the Hooper Library.

The motion before the House was:—"That this Society is of the opinion that the English should leave the Province of Quebec."

Crichton opened for the affirmative and discussed the opposite side of the question, stating that if the French were to go, the sanctuaries open to them were very limited, whereas the English could go to the other provinces, and then we should have a better and more united language.

Keator opened for the negative. His solution of the problem was the suggestion that the French all congregate in one part of the Province, exercising their own laws and religion with the proviso that they keep faith with the Dominion.

Black II, affirmative:—"The Province being originally French should remain so; the government is controlled by the French; the English cannot be happy under their legislation and, therefore, should retire elsewhere."

Montefiore, for the negative, disagreed with the assumption that the French and English got on badly together. He considered the conduct of the affairs of the Province and the tolerance and give-and-take on both sides a model for all other dual nationalities living together.

Chambers, affirmative:—"The ancient principle of self-government inherent in the English people is denied them in the Province of Quebec; they would be happier elsewhere. The English should have a fifth of the legal representation. This is denied them. The Padlocking Law is obnoxious to them, and is not in accordance with English ideas of justice," these were some of the points of his speech.

Nixon, negative, extolled the harmony existing between the two great peoples, considering the gigantic problems to be solved.

Doyle:—"Considering the fact that it was France that originally settled the Province, it is only just that the French should have one of the provinces," he said, speaking for the affirmative.

Davis, negative:—"The English fought for and won Quebec, why should they leave? Were they to leave, Quebec would be isolated from the rest of Canada."

Day considered that the English should evacuate, but not all of the Province. He proposed that the English should take the land south of the St. Lawrence and the French the land to the north, with certain obligations to the Dominion. He told the House that one tenth of the population of Canada was in Montreal. He then aired his favourite topic and advocated an exodus to Canada's West—to the beautiful, undeveloped, uninhabited land.

Patton, negative:—"Let the English stand firm; the French are very often unjust but English fairmindedness will gradually alter this."

Flintoft maintained that the primary inhabitants were not French as so many had asserted, but Indian and Spanish.

Hanson, in an excellent maiden, emphasized the mutual benign influence which the French and English exerted on each other.

Kibbee, also an excellent maiden, considered that it would be a stepping stone to the downfall of the Empire if the English left Quebec. He held up Quebec as a good example to other nations of two great peoples living together in peace and on good terms.

Hugessen spoke against the removal of the English. "If the English left Quebec to whom would the ownership of Quebec go?" he queried. "To England? To France? France and England have their own troubles. Would Quebec be a free country on its own when another power might try to gain possession?" "Now," he concluded "both the French and English are holding each other back."

Gosselin, in a brilliant maiden, expressed his natural hesitancy, being an American, to butt in on what might be considered private matters. He did not feel that the differences between the two peoples were insurmountable. In the course of a most interesting argument he drew a parallel with the Huguenots, maintaining that the latter, being wealthy, were envied by the ordinary Frenchman.

Bishop:—"The French took from the Indians: England took from France. That is the law of the world and thus Empires grow," he said, and admonished the House to vote for the negative, for, said he, sounding a note of alarm, were the English to relinquish Quebec, an enemy might land here and use this Province for a stepping-off place for conquest.

The Motion was put to the House and lost 7-11.

On November the nineteenth, the Motion before the House was:—"That this Society is of the opinion that world disarmament is possible, and therefore world peace."

Chambers, Crichton, Doyle and Davis spoke on the affirmative side, and Black II, Montefiore, Bishop, Gosselin and Keator on the negative.

The motion was lost.

November 26th—The Motion before the House:

"The European system of education is superior to the American."

Nixon—"In Europe the main stress is laid on developing character, in America the chief stress is laid on money."

Chambers stressed the possibility of any American being able to work his way through College.

Davis had high praise for the fagging system in England and said that even Princes were not exempt.

Patton disparaged the Eton and Harrow ideals and their preference for sitting on benches made from ships of the Spanish Armada.

Montefiore considered that the more rigid discipline in Europe develops a better character.

Doyle revelled in the freedom of American schools.

Hanson—"Education is much more strongly handled in Europe and work is better supervised there."

Bishop—"King Henry VIII used this desk and here am I using it too." That is the key-note of English education, he asserted.

Crichton—"In America a man who plays football well may pay his way through college. Large endowments are left by rich men to improve education."

The Motion was lost 4-5.

—o—

December 3rd—Hat Night.

Crichton—"The best movie I have ever seen" is Marie Antoinette, because of the variety of feelings aroused and because every new feeling swayed the audience visibly.

Nixon—Reasoned that we live too much in the city because the close contact spreads disease and in the summer few people, comparatively, can afford to enjoy the fresh, health-giving air. He also considered the city a breeding place for crime.

Chambers—Thought that Canada should follow Britain to war whatever the issue may be because we and the world cannot afford to see Britain go under. Britain has given Canada her start and has supported her. We must reciprocate.

Day—Did not think that the murder of von Rath justified further persecution of the Jews. The fate of the whole Jewish race in Germany should not suffer because a boy took vengeance for his father's unjust punishment and suffering.

Sheppard—Did not think that making the First Team was the greatest thing in school life. He considered it a very great achievement, but thought it a greater honour to pass all one's examinations successfully, thus considering one's parents.

Montefiore—Did not agree that this is the best age in which to live. He chose the 13th century, and pronounced the present age a tax-ridden, war-fear complexed one.

Bishop—Disagreed that capital punishment should be abolished and argued that the scars left (the remainder of the speech was not in keeping with the gravity of the motion).

THE CHAPEL

Chapel Notes

"O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness:
let the whole earth stand in awe of Him."

Worship must start from as worthy a conception of God as we can attain. For the quality of our worship depends upon what the Object of that worship means to us. Just as worship involves all that God means to us, so it also involves the whole of ourselves. Hence into our worship there must be poured the best that we have and are. This means the best of our intellect, the best of our emotions, and the best of our devotion in prayer and song. This surely is the meaning of the phrase, "O worship the Lord in the beauty of holiness". I hope that this is the ideal towards which we all strive in our school worship in Chapel.

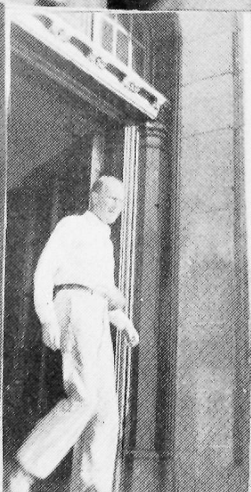

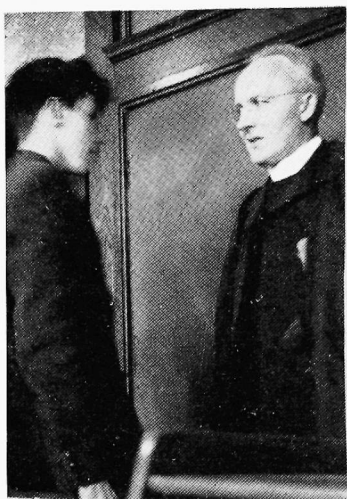

The opening of the School term coincided with the meeting of the three Church Boards of the General Synod in Quebec City, and on the first Sunday of term many of the bishops of the Canadian Church were special preachers at the various churches in the diocese. We were fortunate in having allotted to us as our special preacher the Rt. Rev. Ralph Sherman, D.D., Lord Bishop of Calgary. Bishop Sherman is a graduate in Theology of Bishop's University and he enjoyed the day revisiting the College and the School. He preached a very appropriate sermon for the opening of term and we appreciated his visit very much. After the service he and some friends from Quebec lunched with us at the School.

The Choir lost quite a number of its senior members at the end of the school year, but welcome recruits have replenished its numbers and the choir has again given splendid service in leading our devotions. We are very fortunate in having such a choir under the inspiring leadership of Mr. Page as organist and choir-master.

Other services of special interest have been our Thanksgiving Service on October 9th, when the chapel accommodation was again taxed to its fullest capacity. Our preacher on this occasion was the Reverend Dr. McGreer, Principal of Bishop's University. On October 30th we had a visit from the Rev. Russel Brown, of the Fellowship of the West. After a shortened Evensong at the School he gave a very interesting lecture, illustrated with slides, on the work he and his colleagues are doing in the West. Hugh Mortimer, a student of Bishop's University, whose help as a Server at our Communion services we much appreciate, was last summer associated with Mr. Brown in the work of the Fellowship of the West. On December 4th we had as special preacher Mr. Archdale, headmaster of Ashbury College, Ottawa, who gave us an address on "Courage", illustrated by quotations from Mr. J. M. Barrie's famous rectorial address to St. Andrew's University. Mr. Archdale's talk and visit to the School were much enjoyed and we hope to hear him again.

For various reasons our special early services of Holy Communion on the first Sunday of each month have not been well attended this term, but we hope that next term conditions will be more favourable. We hope to begin a training class for Confirmation candidates early in the New Year. And so, as "the time draws near the birth of Christ", we come to the end of another term with the old wish "A Merry Christmas" to all the members of the School, and especially to the members of the Choir.

School House

This year in School House to us besides the usual influx of new boys, two very memorable events namely: the failure of the water supply which led to some inconveniences and the failure of the electricity to the delight of the whole school.

No less important in the highlights of this term's events was First Team's victory over the Old Boys by a score of 6 to 2. Much credit is due to Captain Norsworthy for this victory and the many others which resulted in a successful football season which included the winning of the Shirley Russell Cup.

In the field of entertainment we enjoyed a very nice Hallowe'en party, thanks to Mr. Hall, attended two dances, one at Compton and the other at St. Helen's School, Dunham. Our enjoyment did not stop here for we had the opportunity to attend a special concert given for us by the Hart House String Quartet. As educational features we heard two lectures, one of which was given in our own assembly hall by Wilson Macdonald, one of the better known Canadian poets, and the other was given by Mr. Abdulla Yussif Ali on the progress of the new British policy in India.

On October the eleventh a party of seventy-five boys, under the leadership of Mr. Hall, climbed Mount Orford, and fortunately the weather was extremely fine.

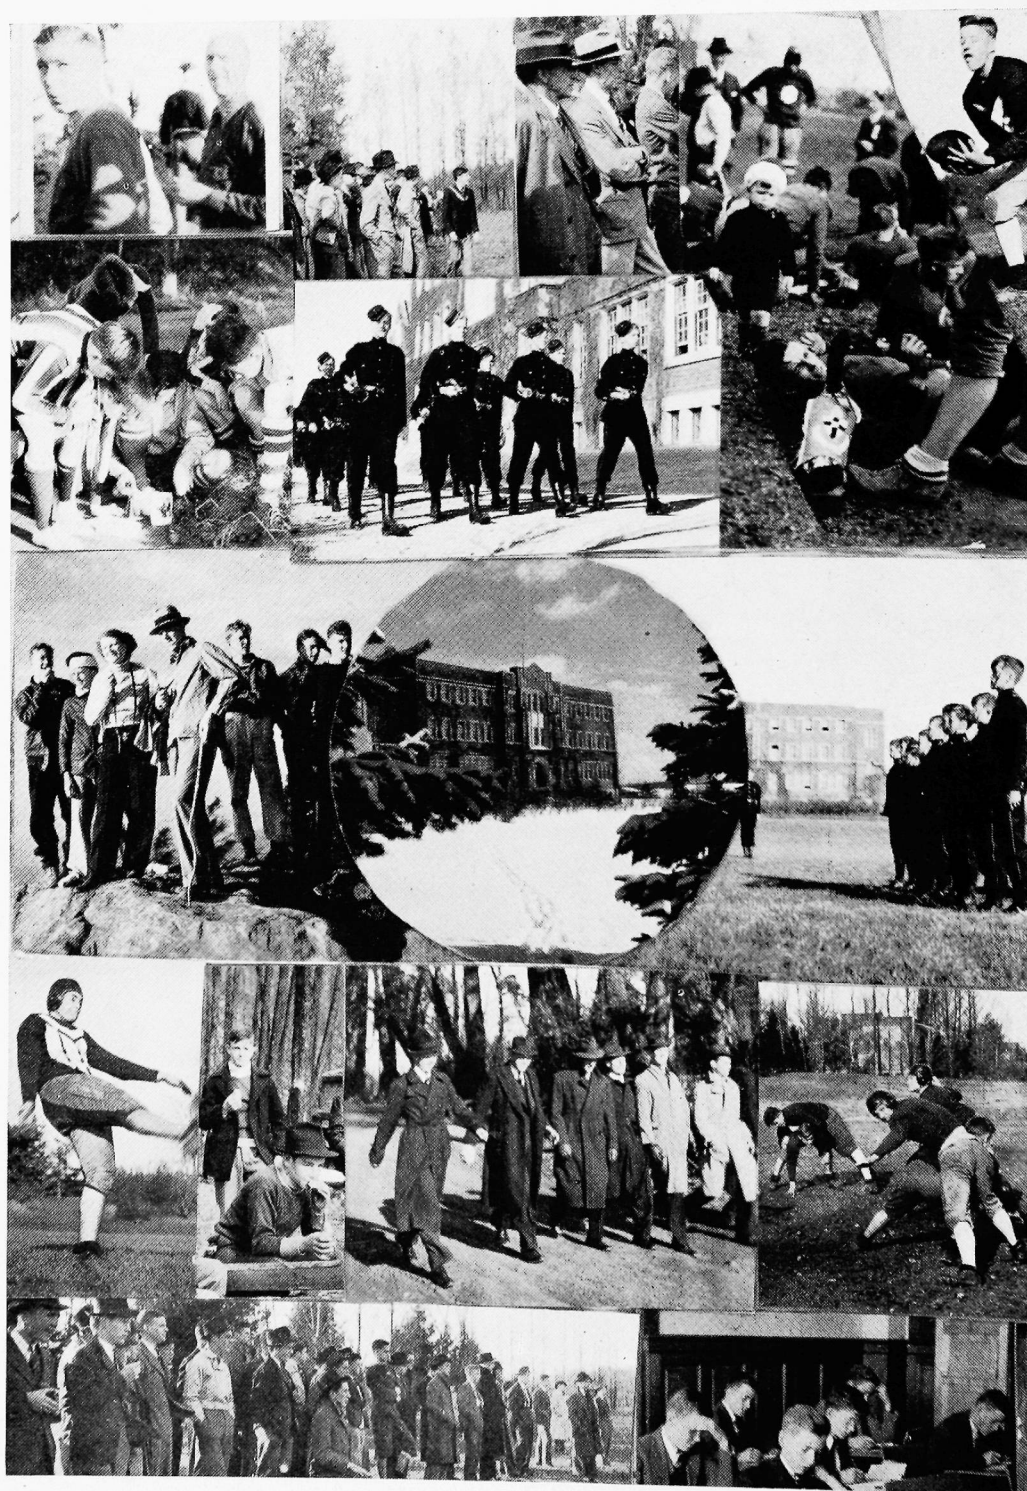

The clubs are very active this year and a new one called the French Club has been formed by Mr. Hall. More provision than ever has been made for these clubs as this year for the first time three of them were given rooms to hold their meetings in.

Everyone deeply regrets the departure of Miss McCallum and heartily welcomes in her stead the new matron Mrs. Boyle.

We wish to congratulate all the members of First Team for their fine performances throughout the football season, especially Norsworthy and Trenholme for their inspiring play, Stewart for winning the senior cross-country, Seton for winning the junior cross-country, and Lindsay I for being made a head boy.

Since this term is swiftly drawing to a close, we take this opportunity of wishing you now a Merry Christmas and a very Prosperous New Year.

T. S.

Chapman's

Chapman House commenced its third year with an enrolment of twenty-two boys composed as usual of fourth formers. This year Collier is the prefect, Duclos, Trotter and Howe the head-boys.

In sports, Chapman House has acquitted itself in no mean way. Collier, Duclos and Trotter gained places as subs and regulars on first and second teams respectively, the latter filling ably the captaincy of second team. The House also contributed the majority of third teamers. In the Senior and Junior Cross-country races, entrants gave in a creditable performance, Duclos and Collier obtaining second and fourth places in the Senior race while Sewell II placed second in the Junior.

However, winter has now come upon the scene and among our ranks there are many boys who will, we are sure, distinguish themselves in the various sports which accompany this season.

Among our varied interests is photography, of which the House boasts many ardent followers who under the able guidance of our housemaster, Mr. Love, have gained a somewhat wider knowledge of this art.

At the present, however, realizing the worth of a good mark in the Christmas examinations we wish all the best of luck.

Our thanks are due to Mr. and Mrs. Love through whose efforts the house-life has been made considerably more enjoyable.

And so, it is our pleasure to extend to one and all our most sincere good wishes for a very Merry Christmas and a highly prosperous New Year.

R. M. C.

Williams'

September 1938 found new faces at Williams House. This year instead of new boys, we have Byers, Goodhue, Durnford and Stairs I, who are all members of the sixth form. Churchill-Smith and Black II, prefect and head boy respectively, also belong to the top form. Both these boys held positions on the second football team. Football is not in the other boys' line but all are enthusiastic boxers, and one or two should win their weights.

On October 21st, Mr. and Mrs. Patriquin announced the birth of a son, Donald Charles Harvey, thus adding a new member to the house.

Apart from Goodhue's bed which we hear is quite hard to dent, the boys have passed a very enjoyable term down at the House.

Lastly the boys wish to thank their Housemaster heartily for cocoa and company every Sunday evening. May we also wish you all a MERRY CHRISTMAS and a very HAPPY NEW YEAR.

THE PLAYERS CLUB NOTES

The Players Club entered upon the school year 1938-39 with a larger membership and with every prospect of a wider interest in Dramatics.

The programme decided upon is somewhat larger this year, but success in carrying it out is largely assured by the erection of a new stage.

The model and plans of this stage to be built in the Assembly Hall, reveal it to be an ultra-modern one, far removed in type from any other existing hereabouts.

Among the many features of this construction, the most striking is the Cyclorama, substituting the common back-drop.

We, the Players Club, are more than grateful to Mr. Grier for this great contribution as well as the new Club Room in which to hold meetings and rehearsals.

Rehearsals are now well under way, on a set of three one-act plays, namely:

BUDDY BUYS AN ORCHID

THE KNOT-HOLE

THE BISHOP'S CANDLE-STICKS

which are to be produced early next term.

After this performance, the Club will embark on a more ambitious task of producing a play by Noel Coward, which will afford wider opportunities to the older members of the Club.

With this rather arduous group completed, we, under the ever able guidance of our director, Mr. Moffat, hope to conclude a successful season worthy of the great facilities afforded us, and that our audience may derive as much pleasure from it as we do.

CAMERA CLUB NOTES

This year the Camera Club embarked on its activities with a new darkroom, a clubroom, and some new equipment. The facilities of a clubroom and a large darkroom are greatly appreciated by all its members. The new equipment includes a developing tank.

The membership of the club totals thirty-five, all of these very active, for already the darkroom has been used more than one hundred and twenty times. We can account this popularity to the fact that this is the first time that we have had the facilities for developing, printing and enlarging in the same room and within easy reach of all the members.

The clubroom is never vacant and contains a very good selection of photographic magazines. Since it is very close to Christmas, we have a word of advice to offer to those of you who will receive cameras as presents. We suggest that you get a six-twenty size camera for we believe that it is the most convenient size. Do not get anything smaller than a one-twenty-seven for a camera of this size is expensive to keep up as all the negatives require enlarging to be made properly visible. As a closing note all the members of the Camera Club join with me in wishing you a very happy Christmas and an extremely prosperous New Year.

EGYPT, LAND OF MYSTERY

*EGYPT, land of mystery and doubt
For years that are far, far beyond our toll,
How oft I've thought and pondered from without
What really lies within your inner soul.*

*What incidents that from this world are hid
Have passed beneath thy sky of leaden cloud,
And fleeting by with time, have made their bid
And vanished fast within thy misty shroud.*

*When shall thy dreaded secrets be revealed
To an astonished world, and when shall all
Thy mysteries which have before been sealed
Be shown to us, our senses to appall.*

*For we, who are but simple minded men,
Know ye have knowledge far beyond our ken.*

*Dear God to you I pray this night
For courage, strength, for faith and might.

Might to do it all alone.
For courage, strength, for faith and might,
Dear God to you I pray this night.*

But scarce could I stop,
To gaze at its treasures astrew,
For my eyes were arrested,

By a fan in a case that I knew.*

*I extracted with stealth,
The Fan from its shelf,
Placed it on a table near by,
Unfolding each pleat,
An odour so sweet
Arose from the fabric so dry.*

*In a reverie I thought,
For some mystery sought,
For adventure in each silken pleat;
What maiden had danced,
While demurely she glanced
At some man or some lover discreet.*

Palmer is an English lad
 In accent anyway.
 Ramsey often does get mad
 At things the masters say.
 Next in line is Tomlinson,
 Good in mathematics,
 MacFarlane is another one,
 Who can do hard quadratics.
 This Penny's not a copper cent
 As you are led to think;
 And Scottish Wregg is Latin bent,
 Unseen behind the rink.
 Next we have Stairs, the brainy boy,
 Who always leads the class,
 And Sandy Mills who laughs with joy
 His geometry to pass.
 We're coming near the end now,
 MacTier is here at last;
 And Collier comes to take his bow,
 And bows adieu as fast.
 Colline d'Epines or Thornhill,
 Eleventh of the gang
 And coming last is quite a thrill
 As Hale sings "SYNE: AULD LANG."

Four-A Notes

BALLAD OF FOUR-A

by DAVID, SHELLEY, NICHOLL

CAMAULIA

Gather round, and hark to me
And hear what I've to say,
It's all about the form I'm in,
The form that's called 4-A.
It's partly good, and partly bad
I don't know what to do,
But here's my poem, and I'll now
Leave all the rest to you.

In English they are pretty good,
In History not bad,
But coming to Biology
It really is too sad.
They don't seem able then to get
The names of all the flowers.
And pistils, stamens, petals
Seem quite beyond their powers.

But best of all they like—ahem—
Their 'Parlez-vous francais'
For we are able Frenchmen
In the form that's called 4-A.
But better still, of course, they like
—And this is plain to see—
Their parts of Georges and Henry
In their nice play 'Causerie.'

In Mathematics? I don't know,
I guess I will not say;
We're not so hot in that line
In the form that's called 4-A.
In Rhetoric we're pretty good
As we declaim our rhyme.
Divinity and Latin? Well—
They take up too much time.

Well now we haven't too much space
To talk about the boys.
What do they do? Now let me see,
They make a lot of noise.
Some characters are doubtful,
The two B's, are you there?
Some do a lot of work in which
Wank and Holl have their share.

And Howard too is quite a swot
He comes first in the class,
MacConnel, Hugie, Hodgson
Come off with a good pass
But Grav and Woodward, Walsh and Doyle,
Nixon, McQuaig, Sabu,
I think the less we say about
Them is the thing to do.

Hanson or Skelton are not named
Now do you think they should?
I think the place we'd find for them
Would be very, very good.
Well I've put all of this in print
As best it seemed to me,
Although I cannot tell you that
The form will quite agree.

I missed out Landry, woe is me,
MacTier is missed out too,
I think that I had better say
They're very good, don't you?
Please do not criticize us,
We're really quite okay,
This poem's just a ballad
Of the form that's called 4-A.

CROSS COUNTRY RACE

The races were held on Wednesday, the 16th of November. It was a brisk day and there was a little snow in places along the course. There were 36 contestants, including nine Seniors and twenty-seven Juniors.

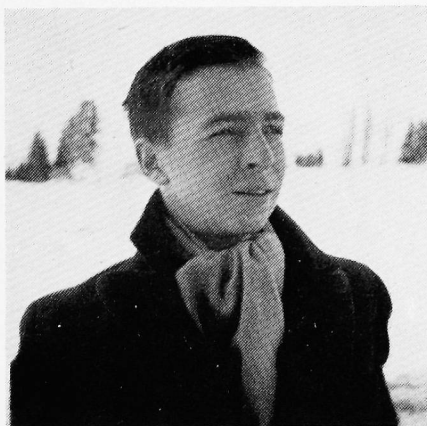

Stewart stood out in the Senior class, followed by Duclos and Macfarlane. The Junior race was captured by Dave Seton, followed up by Sewell II and Landry.

The course took the boys up Moulton Hill to the sugar farm and back below the Q.C. tracks to the School. Here the Junior course stopped but marked the mid-point of the Senior course. This continued along the East Sherbrooke Road and cut across fields to come back alongside the tracks to the School.

The times were as follows:—

Stewart.....	40.10	Seton.....	24.30
Duclos.....	42.27	Sewell II.....	25.55

FOOTBALL

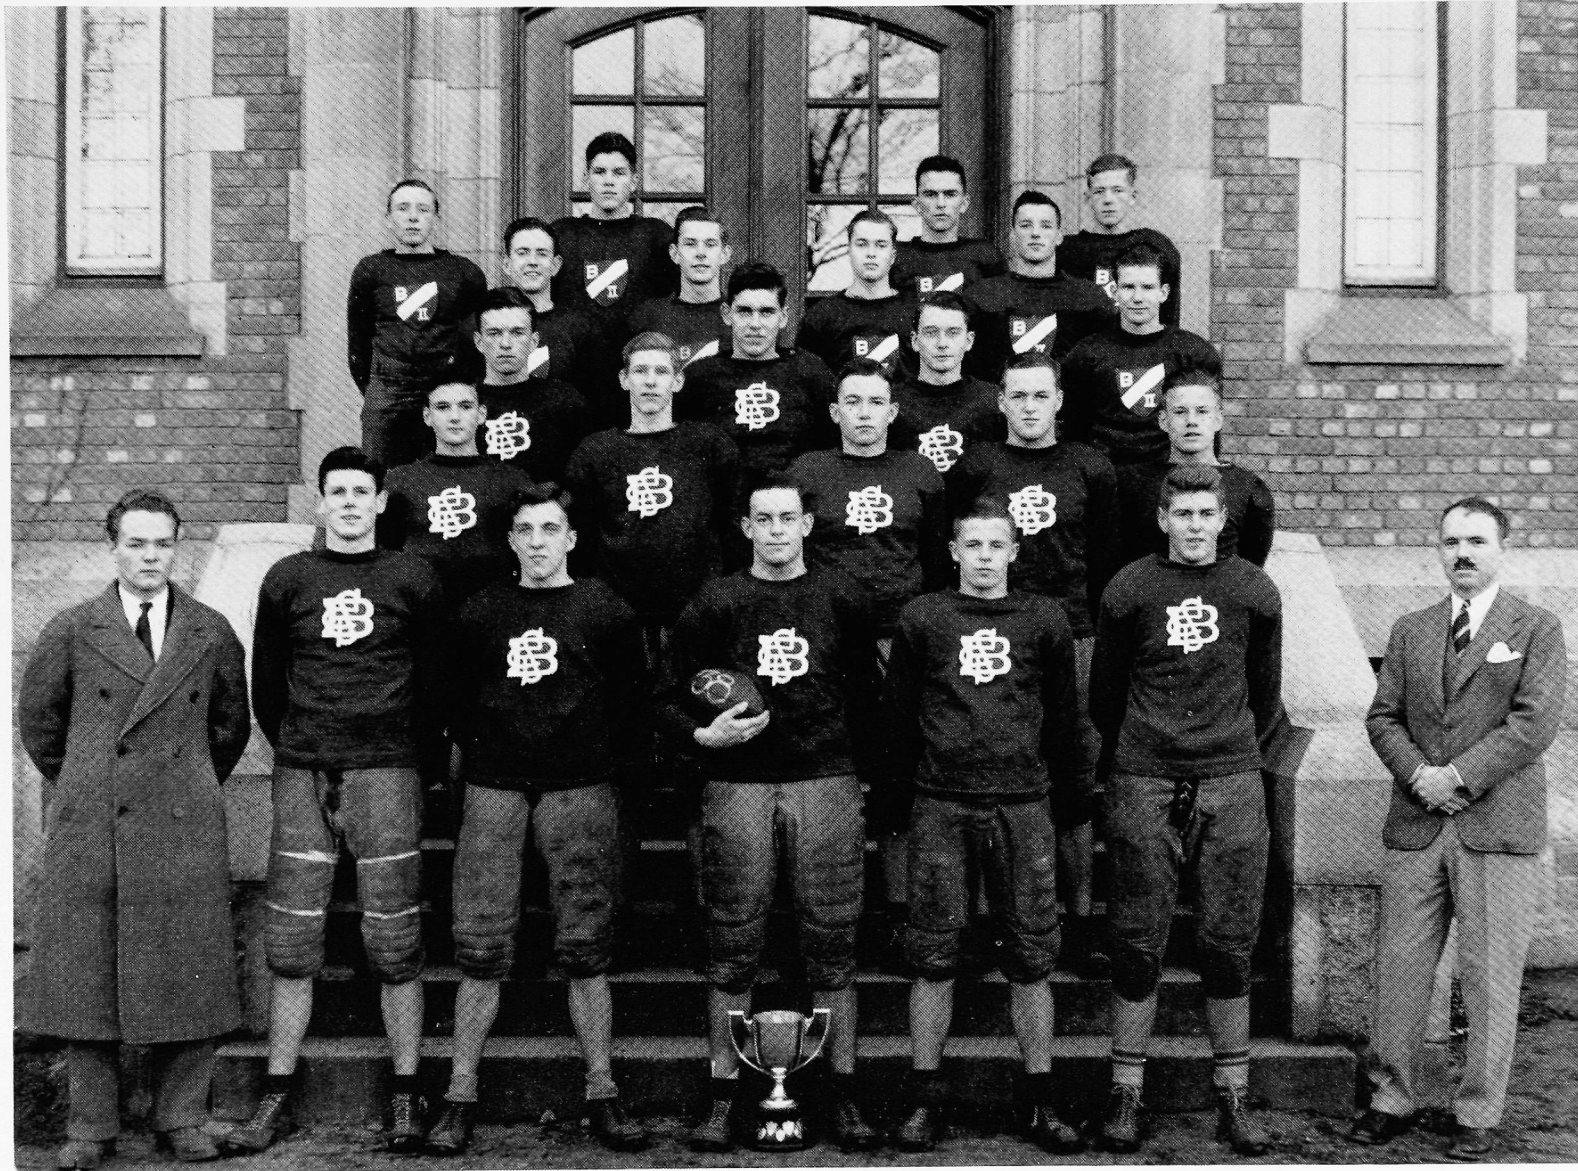

THE RUGBY SEASON

A FOREWORD

The season of 1938 has been one of the most eventful in recent years. The first team moved steadily ahead through a fixture list of seven matches, winning them all except one, and scoring upwards of two hundred points against something under thirty. In the course of this procession the Old Boys were defeated for the first time in many seasons, the Shirley Russel Cup was won for the second year in succession, and our apparently invincible rivals from Stanstead College were given a most wholesome run for their money. Then, when the team was at the top of its form, with everyone in first-class shape, and plays working smoothly, a pilgrimage was made to that mecca of fast football, Ridley College, St. Catharines, and a most salutary lesson was learned in terms of a 101 to 0 beating. You may draw your own conclusions. The team played well, fought grimly to the end, and asked no quarter. Ridley were a little heavier, a little stronger, a little older—not much. They paid us the compliment of keeping up the pressure to the final whistle, and the relentless succession of fast, deceptive plays, combined with swift, sure passing and a style of running that we had not seen before, was simply more than we could cope with. If the B.C.S. team had been any less plucky, if they admitted injuries, had called for water, trainers, doctors and other essentials of the type of football we see so much of nowadays, if they had delayed in any way, the score would not have been so monumental. As it was, the rhythm of the game was scarcely interrupted at all, and it was a treat to watch.

One more word, before leaving the subject of the Ridley match. On the following day, Dr. Griffith, the Principal of Ridley, and for thirty years the coach of her football teams, concluded a short address in chapel by saying: "I think that . . . we have taught you a lesson in football, but you have taught us a lesson in sportsmanship". That graceful compliment is one that should be equally shared by both sides. The sportsmanship of the Ridley team, and the generous and sportsmanlike behaviour of the Ridley spectators made a permanent impression on B.C.S.

 Third Row: C. D. SEWELL, D. J. DODDS, R. A. LINDSAY, F. R. WHITTALL. Second Row: H. R. FINLEY, J. H. F. KENNY, C. W. KENNY, G. A. WINTERS, H. E. TRENHOLME.
 Front Row: G. E. CROSS, (ASST. COACH) G. D. POWIS, R. MacD. BLACK, H. H. NORSWORTHY, (CAPTAIN), W. M. MOLSON, R. C. EATON, C. G. M. GRIER, ESQ., (COACH).

The highest compliment which the writer can pay the team is to say that, before the final match, it would have been impossible to select the winner of the Cleghorn Cup. In point of fact, it had been virtually decided to present it to the entire team. (At Ridley, a little more experience and strength, the slight advantage of their positions, combined with the spirit which had infected the whole team, made Norsworthy and Trenholme outstanding figures, and so it was that Norsworthy, as captain, presented the cup to Trenholme.) It was a team. There were no "stars". Eaton threw 'em, and Trenholme, Powis, Finley or Black caught 'em. Eaton will have to learn to throw to a point on the field instead of to a man, and the rest will have to learn to be at that point, moving fast, at the time of the arrival of the ball. Molson slipped through gaps in the line, and took kicks back a long way. Next year he will be swerving more, changing pace, stopping occasionally and running harder. Powis pulled down many a "sleeper" and many a buck through right wing. Black caught well at full-back, ran back countless kicks, and, given a start, could gain a lot of ground around the end. Norsworthy fed his backs with a minimum loss of time and was personally responsible for the success of many fast end-runs. He did practically all the kicking and did it well. Of the two outsides Trenholme was the faster and had the surer hands, but Finley combined with him to make a pair of outside wings reminiscent of Payan and Sewell Hubbard—high praise. The middles and insides were grand. There was a solidity about that part of the line that inspired confidence. The Kennys—Chas. and Jas.—, Winters, Dodds, and Lindsay could play at any of the four positions, and did so throughout the season. Sewell, snap, hits a runner harder than any man on the team, but he is too impetuous, and misses under the kicks. For complete details, read your "individuals".

An Old Boy, watching the game at St. Catharines, said, "That's the best B.C.S. team I have seen, but THAT is the best school team I shall ever see." You're wrong, Old Boy, There will be teams like it at B.C.S. before many moons.

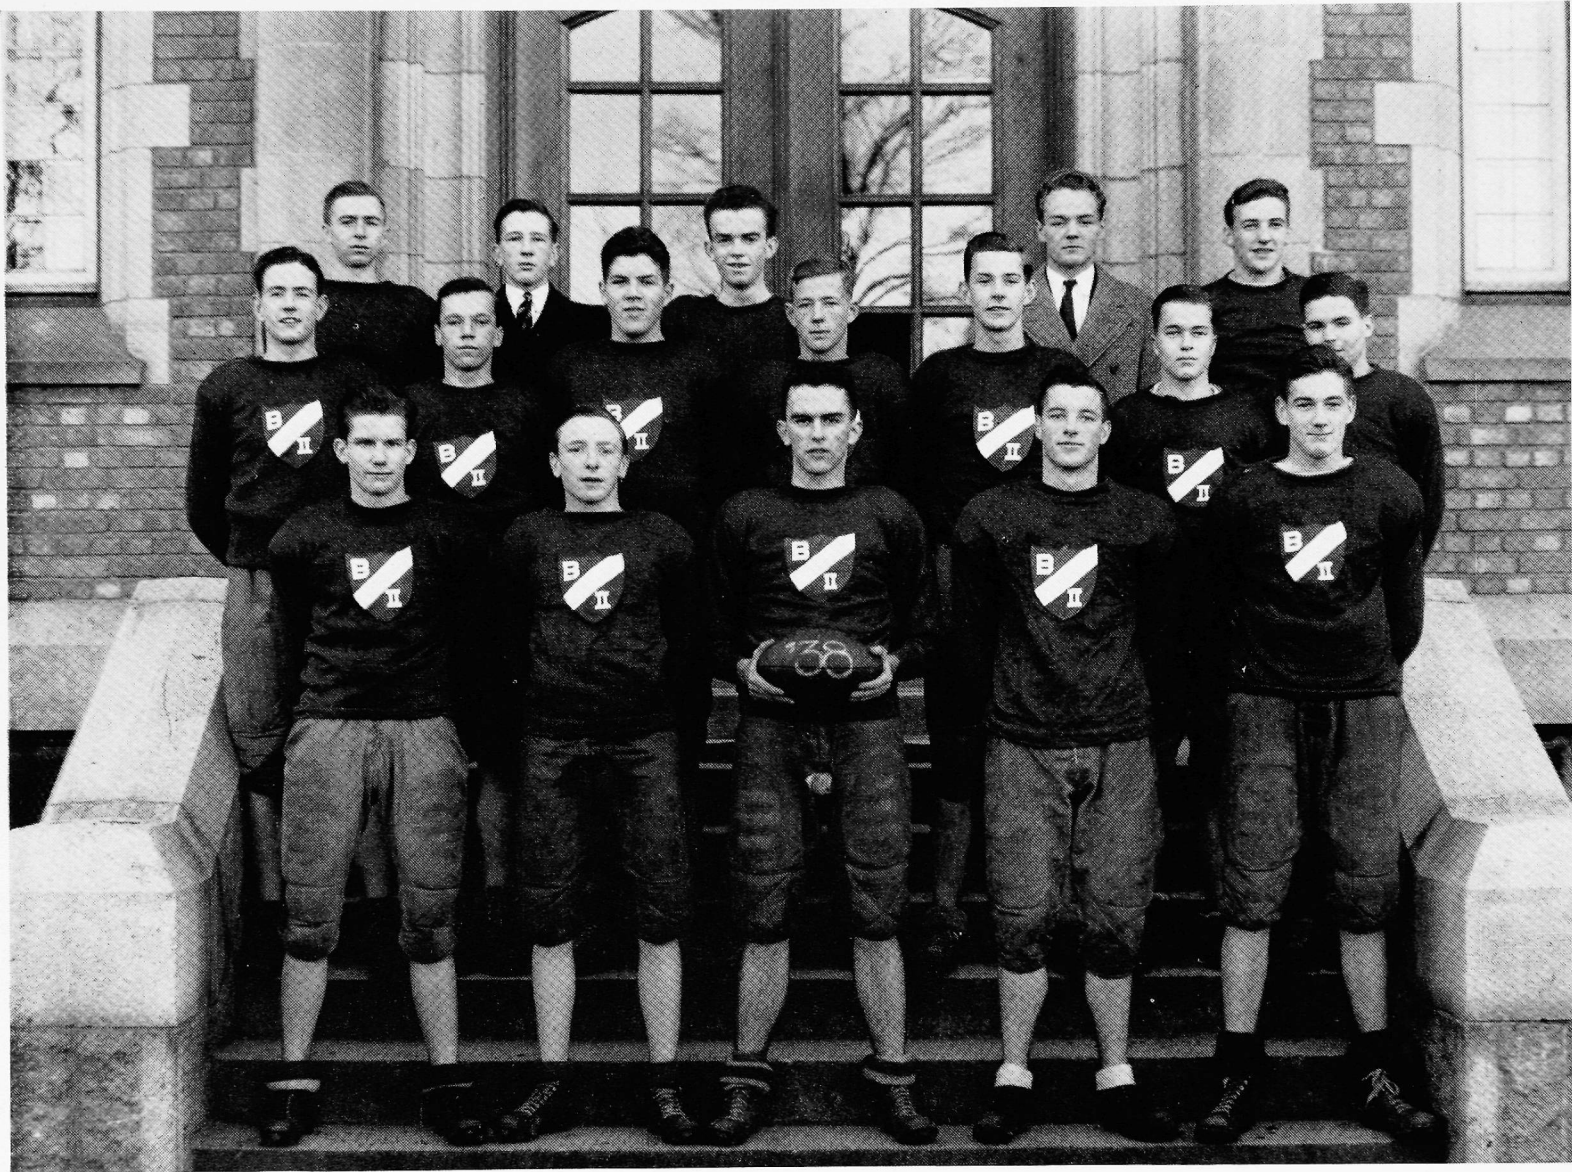

BISHOP'S OVERWHELMS QUEBEC HIGH BY 40-0.

With six "colours" from last year B.C.S. supporters were promised a fast and exciting football season. Norsworthy again in the role of quarterback for the second consecutive year insured first rate management of the team.

On October 1st, on a rain soaked field, B.C.S. played Quebec High. In the first quarter the School had a wide edge. Soon after the kick-off Stewart paved the way for a touchdown by Trenholme which was converted by Eaton. Before half-time Powis and Smith had made major scores, the former on a pass from Norsworthy and the latter co-operating on an onside kick by Norsworthy.

In the second half Trenholme, Molson, and Black all made touchdowns on passes from Eaton, one of which was unconverted. Trenholme, who was playing a magnificent game, then fell on a Quebec fumble behind their line. In the final period the School's 2nd team was put on and they added one point.

B. C. S. SWAMPS LOWER CANADA COLLEGE, 63-0

Displaying one of the most versatile attacks ever shown by a School team in Montreal, the School squad ripped through L.C.C. almost at will, on October 22nd, to pile up the amazing score of 63 to 0.

Halfbacks Norsworthy and Molson and middle Dodds led the School as they ran wild to register forty-two points in the first quarter.

In the third stanza, the L.C.C. boys tightened up and held Bishop's scoreless, but in the final quarter the School roared through for another twenty-one points.

B. C. S. OUTSCORES ASHBURY BY 18-5

On October 15th the School chalked up a convincing victory over Ashbury College. The Ottawa students were unable to cope with the passing attack of Eaton and the running and kicking of Norsworthy. Powis, Molson and Black rounded out a backfield that played havoc with the Ashbury defence.

The first touch was scored on a sleeper play from Eaton to Powis who ran unmolested for fifty yards to make a major score, which was converted. Ashbury got back in the game with a touchdown by Wallace. A few minutes later Norsworthy scored on a quarterback sneak, which was converted by Eaton on a drop kick.

In the last half, smart plays by Trenholme and Black led to another touch by Norsworthy, which was unconverted.

The teams were:

Bishop's:—Eaton, Molson, Black, Powis, Norsworthy, Sewell, J. Kenny, C. Kenny, Dodds, Winters, Trenholme, Finley.

Subs:—Trotter, Lindsay, Stewart, Whittall.

Ashbury:—Main, Thomson, Grant, Wood, Barclay, Wilson, Viets, Stedman, Borden, Drew, Thomas, Maclaren.

Subs:—Hertzberg, Wallace, Hersey, Wilgress, Burrows, Drake.

B. C. S. DOWNS OLD BOYS 6-2

In the closing seconds of play Bishop's smashed their way up the field for 75 yards to win the annual bout with the Old Boys with a spectacular touchdown.

At half-time the School held a one point lead on a dead-line kick by Norsworthy. The Old Boys wiped out this lead in the final quarter and then forged ahead, Glass kicking both points. It was then that Black pulled his surprise play that caught the Old Boys flat-footed.

The teams were:—

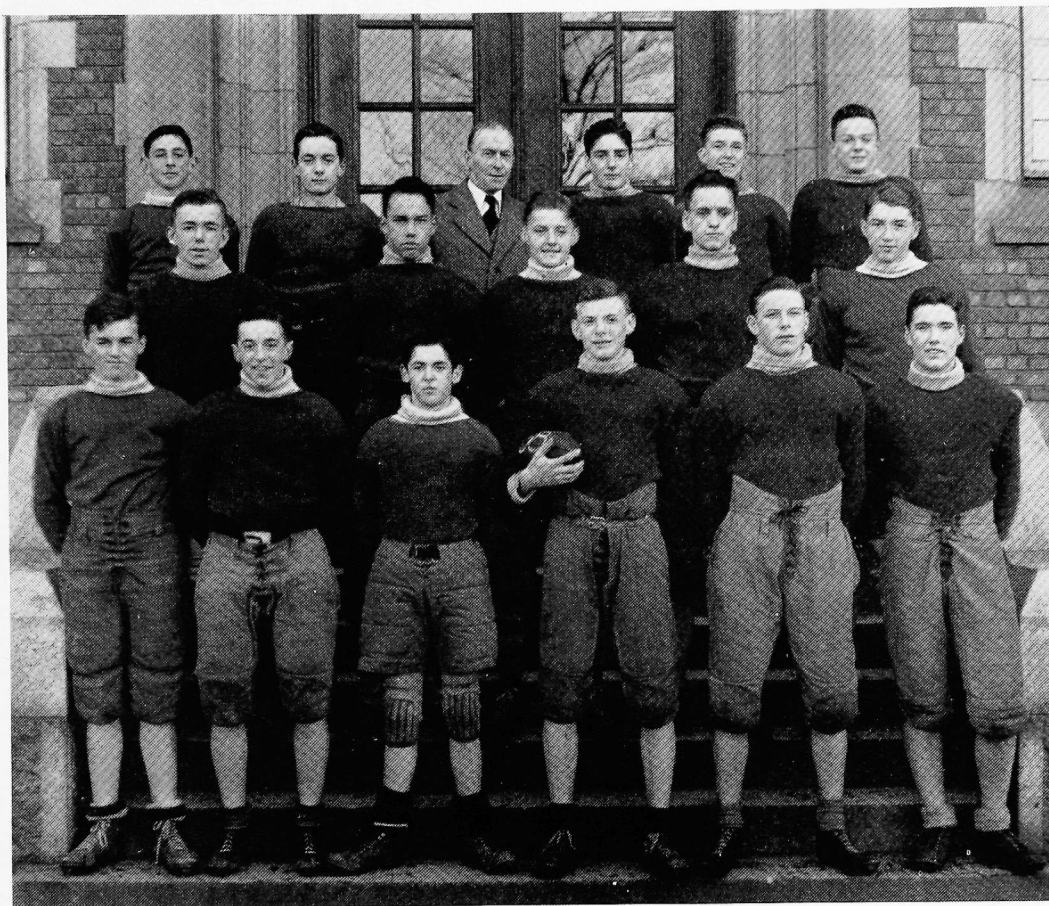

Bishop's:—R. Black, Eaton, Powis, Molson, Sewell, Norsworthy, J. Kenny, Dodds, C. Kenny, Winters, Churchill-Smith, Finley.

Subs:—Stewart, Whittall, Lindsay, Trotter, Duclos, G. Black.

Old Boys:—Robinson, Glass, H. Doheny, T. R. Kenny, Maclean, D. Doheny, Colditz, W. Doheny, Cross, Payan.

STANSTEAD DEFEATS B. C. S. IN FINAL RALLY, 15-13

In the hardest fought game of the season, Stanstead defeated the School twelve on October 25th on the School grounds.

Midway through the opening quarter Eaton tossed a pass to Powis which was good or a thirty yard gain. A minute later Black scored wide around the left end on a fake kick by Eaton. Eaton converted on a drop kick.

Tremendous kicking by Abbot resulted in a rouge for the border town squad. After half-time Eaton passed to Trenholme for a touch, which he converted. Norsworthy then kicked to the deadline for a point.

In the final quarter Stanstead pulled themselves together and two touchdowns by Garbarino and Abbott resulted; one was converted. Then a rouge from the toe of Abbott made the score 13-13 and yet two more rouges pulled Stanstead from the brink of defeat to a well-earned victory.

For the visitors Abbott, Garbarino, Gould and Schofield were outstanding.

B. C. S. DEFEATS SHERBROOKE HIGH, 17-6

Bishop's defeated the courageous Sherbrooke High in Sherbrooke on October 31st after a hard struggle.

Early in the first quarter B.C.S. stepped into a five-point lead by virtue of an unconverted touch. Eaton fired a pass to Trenholme who had a clear path to the goal-line.

In the second stanza B.C.S. launched an aerial attack and a rouge was scored.

Sherbrooke returned a kick to their own five yard line which Norsworthy caught and made a touch which was converted by Eaton, making the score 12-0. Sherbrooke fell on the ball behind the B.C.S. line for a touch which was converted.

In the last frame Bishop's sewed up the game when Nixon made a major score on a pass from Eaton. This was unconverted.

The teams were:

Bishop's:—Norsworthy, Whittall, Powis, Molson, Eaton, Sewell, J. Kenny, C. Kenny, Winters, Lindsay, Trenholme, Nixon.

Subs:—Fletcher, Duclos, Trotter, Churchill-Smith, Stewart.

Sherbrooke:—Wright, Bishop, Stevens, Barfield, Wilson, Heath, MacLean, Kellett, Willis, Fountain, Clowery, Ives.

Subs:—Stewart, Miller, Wood, Richardson, Brooks.

RIDLEY BEATS B. C. S. BY 101-0.

Ridley set what is believed to be a high-scoring record this season on November 13th when they defeated the School, 101-0. However, the School squad's play was not as bad as the score indicated. The winners gathered 18 touchdowns, 9 converts and two rouges as Lewis and Ashburner led the Ridley barrage with three touches apiece.

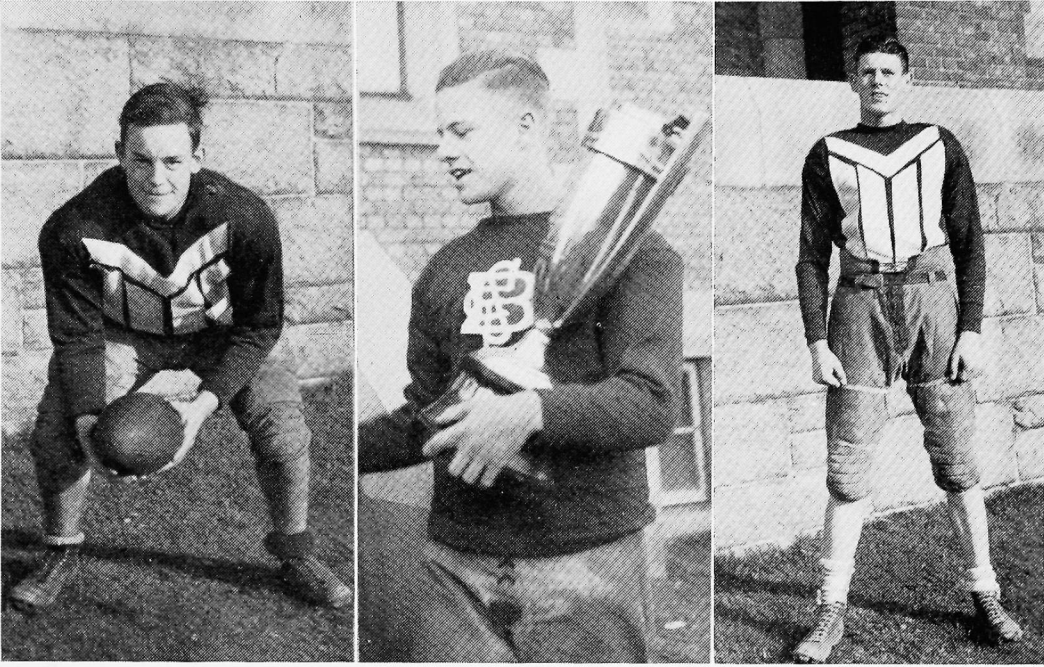

The teams were:—

Bishop's:—Black, Powis, Eaton, Molson, Norsworthy, Sewell, C. Kenny, J. Kenny, Winters, Dodds, Trenholme, Finley.

Subs:—Holt, Smith, Collier, Whittall, Lindsay, Fletcher, Duclos.

Ridley:—Davidson, Ashburner, Reid, Hartshorn, Scandrett, Dixon, McIntosh, Douglas, Lewis, Langley, Schmon, McClelland.

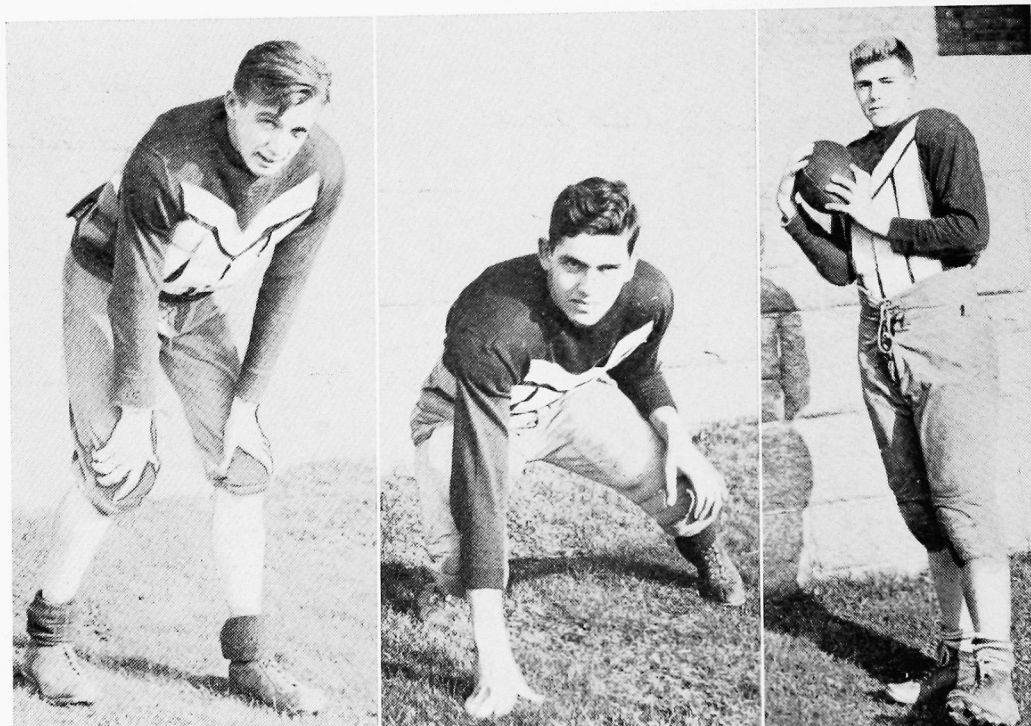

Subs:—Denison, Evans, Webster, Park, Boswell.

Norsworthy — captain and quarterback, was great in both capacities. He holds a team well together and inspires confidence. Generalship usually sound, his kicking was consistently good and his tackling often terrific. One of the hardest workers on a team that never spared itself.

Trenholme is to be congratulated not only for his work at outside but also for winning the Cleghorn Cup which is awarded annually to the most effective all-around player on the team. Harry ranks with the best outsides here in 15 years, combining speed, power and deadliness in getting his man.

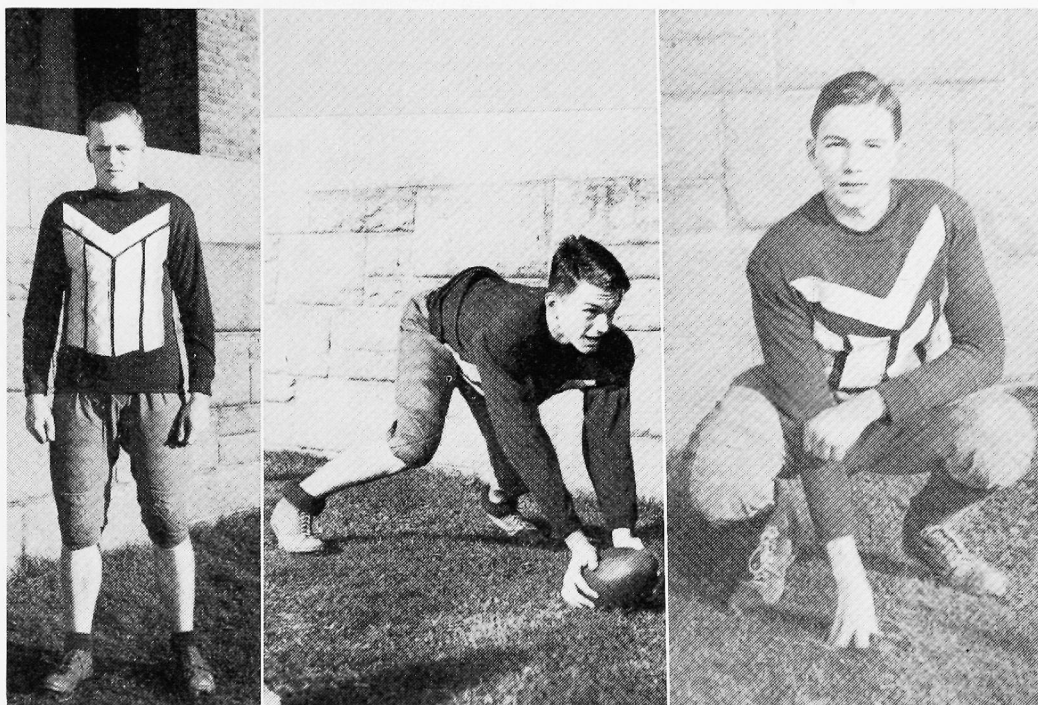

Powis, at half, carried on from where he left off last year. Specialty—the sleeper play which frequently clicked for a touch, and failing that went for big yardage. Good also as a buckler, as he got up speed quickly and hit the line in high.

Black I in the flying wing position was usually outstanding. With a sure pair of hands and a fine turn of speed he ran back many kicks frequently saving a rouge and making long gains. Good receiver of forward passes, and one of the surest tacklers on the team, he proved to be a most colourful and versatile player.

Dodds played a grand game all year at inside, for he always seems to expect more of himself than he does of the other fellow. His tackling was uniformly strong and he never let down snap and middle on either side of him. In mid-season he developed into a fine place and drop kicker.

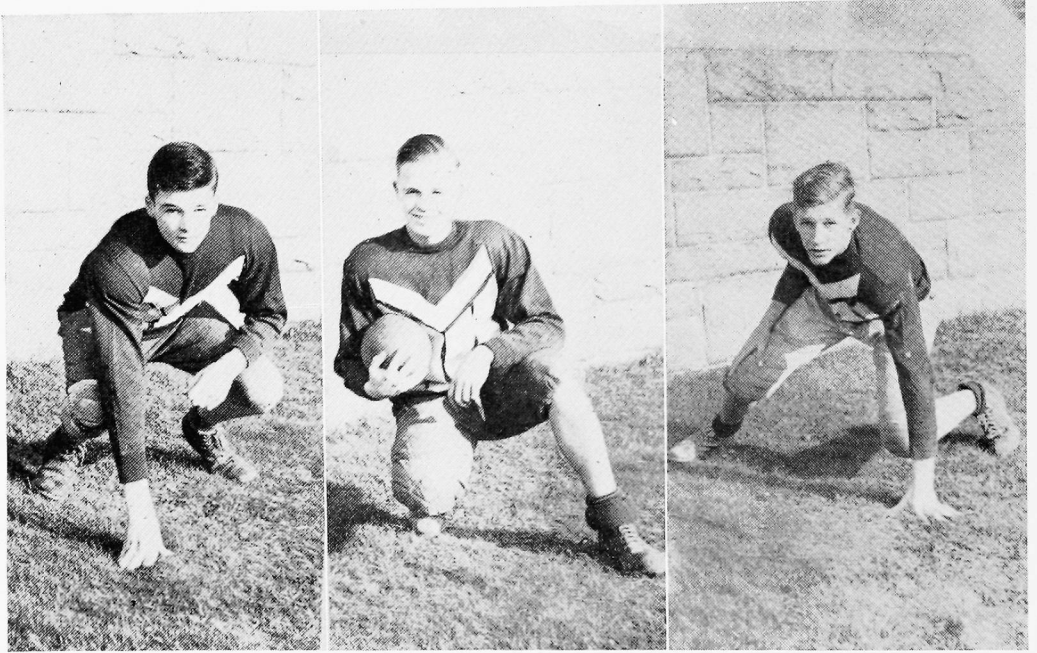

Eaton played his usual robust game at half where his tackling on secondary defence stopped many an enemy thrust. His forward passing was a treat to watch, for he handled both long and short ones with accuracy and speed. Did some nice drop kicking, too, when called upon.

Winters proved to be a sterling middle and in that position a great team player. George was invariably in the thick of the fray, reliable and untiring. Seldom drawn out of position, he supported players on both sides of him strongly.

Sewell, at snap, turned in many good games. Though he made few mistakes during the season in getting the ball out, it was his work on secondary defence which shone. Holes he charged in to fill stayed filled and the play stopped. Combined good judgment with his heavy blocking and proved always to be a power in the line.

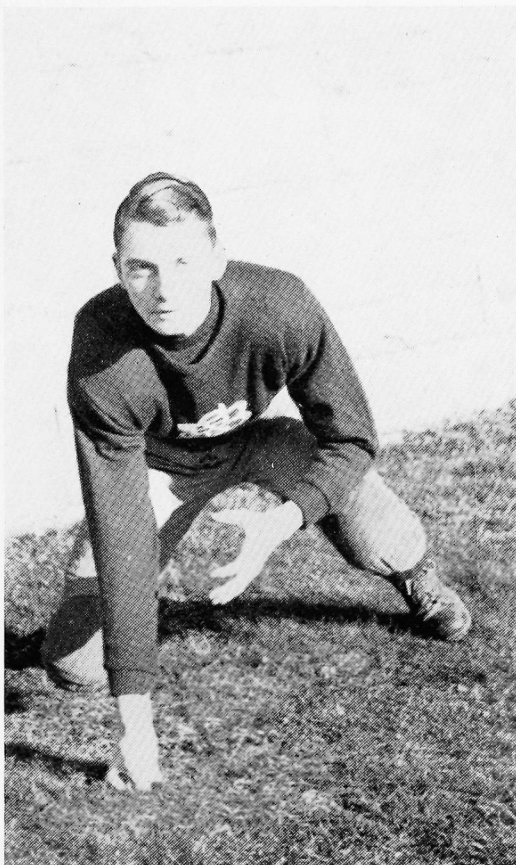

Kenny I was the other durable middle, blocking and tackling effectively. With such a strong ball-carrying half line, the middles were used infrequently for bucking, but their defensive play more than made up for that.

Finley had a good year at outside. He showed himself to be a dependable pass receiver, but the high spot in his game was tackling—hard and accurate. He appeared to be in most plays and his down field work was something to cheer for.

Molson was a consistent gainer as a bucking half. His running would be a lesson to many older and more experienced players. Bill wastes no time, but with a fast start and increasing speed he runs straight, both at the line and in the open field. This style may not always make yards but it rarely loses any. Bill generally made them, especially in a pinch.

Kenny II (Jim) was one of the lightest insides the School ever had, but his play was generally effective and often spectacular. He has an uncanny gift for breaking through and spilling the opposing quarter. His open field tackling was good and on kicks he was often down with the outsides.

Lindsay I played sub middle and well deserved the team colours awarded him. He played his best every moment he was on the field, and a very good best it was. His side of the line suffered no weakness while he was in. Congrats Robin.

The Subs—sturdy men all—proved to be uncommonly fine reserve strength and played with the same spirit as the regulars. Better than anyone else the latter know how good and how abundant the subs were in Churchill-Smith, Collier I, Whittall, Trotter, Duclos, Fletcher, Stewart, Holt and Nixon. We wish them all luck and for those who will be back next year, a place on the team and colours their reward.

LAKE MACDONALD

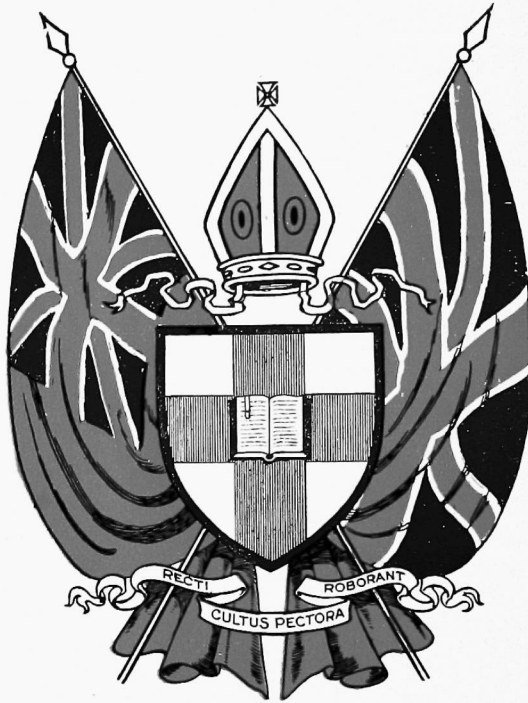

Up at Lake MacDonald,
Midst the trees of different hue;
The spider's web looks silver edged
In early morning dew.

The birds sing sweetly in the pines,
The lake is clear and still.
Now here, now there, a fish will jump,
And the song of the loon comes shrill.

There is a grace in this calm place,
No sound of guns, no war;
The fields are full of ripening crops
No city sounds to jar.

No. 2, BISHOP'S COLLEGE SCHOOL CADET CORPS NOTES

Strength—

The Corps strength at present is 115 all ranks, 31 recruits inclusive.

The Strathcona (Cadet) Military Efficiency Trophy 1937-38.

The personnel of the Corps 1937-38 are to be congratulated on winning The Strathcona Military Efficiency Trophy. The Corps has now won this Trophy three times in succession.

Semaphore Signalling Certificates.

Twenty-three Semaphore Signalling Certificates were awarded to the candidates who passed the examination in May. A bonus of two dollars was issued with each certificate.

Church Parade.

A representative Platoon paraded with The Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) of Canada, on the occasion of the Annual Church Parade of the Regiment, to the Church of St. Peter and St. Paul, Sherbrooke St., Montreal, on Sunday, October the 2nd. After the Parade the Platoon were entertained to refreshments in the Officers' Mess, for which they were duly grateful to the officers of The Black Watch. The spectators along the route often applauded the fine military carriage, and rhythmical marching of the Platoon, or did the four Ex-Corps Commanders seen along the route, initiate the applause? Maybe not.

Remembrance Day.

As most of the Senior Ranks were "out of town" the Corps were unable to furnish the Guard of Honour to the Fallen, at the Cenotaph in Lennoxville, on Remembrance Day. The School Honour Roll was called by Cadet Lieut. Crichton, who also placed the wreath.

Lieut. Crichton justifies that Scottish proverb "Guid gear gaes in sma bulk", being of small stature, and under 100 lbs. In uniform with sword he looks and is "Just as smart as a needle". Congrats, Lieut.

THE FIRST MARCH OF THE YEAR

Boxing Competition

It gives your reporter great pleasure to say that this competition was better than those of the past few years. Entries were more numerous, interest was higher, and the brand of boxing was uniformly better. This is as it should be, but we are glad to record the fact. There are several reasons to account for the improvement, one of which is that boxing creases were organized early and were placed upon a proper footing as soon as the football season ended. Another reason is that the entire body of prefects entered in the different weights and supervised their dormitories in daily practice. The condition of contestants was noticeably better than for some time and more first rate boxing has been displayed than appeared in all the contests of the past three years. We hope—indeed, we believe—that B.C.S. boxing in future years will be the better for the revived interest and the increased skill which have marked this year's bouts.

Semi-finals—December 7th.

Flyweight—

Flintoft vs. Rapley. Conceding both height and reach, Rapley found it difficult to get in close but he kept after his man. Only a good guard saved Flintoft, and using his reach he landed several lefts to his opponent's head. Both worked hard and put on some good exchanges, in which Flintoft had a slight advantage. Flintoft's bout.

Bantamweight—

Crichton vs. Wanklyn. Both boxers had been outstanding in their preliminary bouts, and did not disappoint their friends when brought together. Crichton was the aggressor and gave his opponent a very busy time for both rounds. Wanklyn defended himself cleverly but had little time to attack. Footwork and dodging were good on both sides. Crichton took a close decision after an exciting fight.

*Woodward vs. Landry—*There was some wildness in this fracas but both contenders were deadly serious and laid into each other. In his eagerness to land, Woodward often forgot to guard and then was the victim of some overhand rights. Landry kept boring in and throughout the two rounds scored enough to take the decision.

Featherweight—

Churchill-Smith vs. Thornhill. This was another ding-dong battle with Thornhill showing a more scientific brand of boxing, especially in his defence. His opponent never let up and having something in reach ran up more points. The former had to take some neat uppercuts to get in close, but they did not stop him. Clever work by both battlers won rounds of applause, Churchill-Smith taking the decision.

Hutcheson vs. Dobell. Walkover for the former because of a disabled hand suffered by Dobell in the previous day's preliminary.

Lightweight—

Finley vs. Nixon. This set-to was fast and clever on both sides. Finley is unusually shifty and kept away from Nixon's left which had won two previous bouts for him. In addition, Finley did some neat scoring with lefts and rights to the face which did no damage. Towards the end Nixon was short and though he did not let up, Finley landed often enough to win a smart bout by a close margin.

Mills vs. Sewell II. Mills' high guard and swift jab with either hand from that position seemed to puzzle his opponent. Sewell worked very hard to land blows, but found most of them blocked. Mills gradually piled up points and won an interesting bout in which there was not a dull moment.

Welterweight—

Chambers vs. Sheppard. This pair was unwilling to mix at first, but when they settled down to business, both showed considerable ability in footwork. Chambers had the advantage in height and reach but found Sheppard far from easy to hit. The latter's intentions were good, but his delivery was frequently short, and when exposed he had to take several uppercuts. He rallied late in the second round, but Chambers had enough margin on the first round to win.

Molson vs. Whittall. This contest brought together two friends and rivals of old Prep. days. Neither boy spared the horses, but it was far from being a mere slugging match. Whittall has a smart pair of hands, while Molson wields a dangerous left straight from the shoulder. Boxing at long range, Whittall kept out of trouble and over the two rounds collected enough points to win. Your reporter is sentimental enough to confess a warm liking for these "old-timer" bouts.

Middleweight—

Kenny I vs. Kenny II. This fight brought together two more old-timers. Conceding over 30 pounds, Jim had his work cut out to score. His footwork and stepping back were the most skilful we have seen in these contests, and they kept him out of much damage. Charlie packs a heavy blow, but found the shifting target hard to hit. In totally different styles both boys boxed cleverly and received rousing applause for their efforts. Charlie took the decision by the narrowest of margins.

Seton vs. Stewart. The latter won a walkover, due to an injury received by his opponent in a previous fight.

School Championship—

Eaton vs. Powis. This battle brought together two experienced campaigners, widely different in both temperament and style. Powis opened fast with both hands but encountered a rugged defence which turned without warning into an equally rugged attack. There was little to choose between the two in aggressiveness, but there was a great difference in weight of blows struck. Footwork good on both sides, and Eaton's ducking and escaping from trouble were a treat to watch. Powis kept on peppering his man with swift rights and lefts, and some of Eaton's returns shook up his opponent. There was no let-up in pace over the three rounds of this even and brilliant contest, which Powis won with little to spare. Congratulations to both for a fine display of skill and courage.

Trenholme vs. Dodds. This was the old ring story of a good little man against a good big man, and the result followed tradition. Trenholme was giving away over 30 pounds as well as conceding both height and reach. Dodds was forced to adopt a crouch which seemed to hamper his usual style, but he punished his man with damaging lefts to both head and body and had to take numerous fierce jabs from the other's left. In round two both were cautious, but in the last round opened up. Here weight told and Trenholme, who refused to break ground, took some heavy punishment which slowed him up. In winning, Dodds gained more than the decision—he won the admiration of all spectators for the sportsmanship he has shown from his first day at B.C.S.

Finals—December 8th, 1938.

Flyweight—

Walsh vs. Flintoft. Flintoft showed the same ringcraft that won his preliminary bouts. Swift and methodical, he bored in pressing his advantage with well-timed lefts and kept his opponent from launching a serious attack. Walsh tried gamely but appeared to tire, hit short and was unable to break through Flintoft's defence. The latter deserved the win on his display of good boxing.

Bantamweight—

Crichton vs. Landry. This pair tore into each other from the bell, for Landry had shown in his early bouts that he loved to trade blows. Crichton provided all the desired co-operation, jabbing and upper-cutting freely but with small effect upon the whirlwind opposite him. Some of Landry's swings found their mark, but by good footwork the other avoided most of the danger and when in close he threw enough blows to keep the lead. Congrats. to both for a lively and interesting bout.

Featherweight—

Hutchison vs. Churchill-Smith. In the preliminaries Churchill-Smith had buffeted his opponents into submission, but in this bout caught a tartar. Hutcheson had the advantage of both height and reach, together with control of a nifty right uppercut. Churchill-Smith rushed in continually but was generally held off inflicting little damage and often finding himself on the receiving end. He plugged valiantly but could not stop Hutcheson's steady advance. The latter missed plenty because of Smith's good dodging and ducking, but he landed enough telling blows to take the contest. The boys deserved the applause which broke out at the end of the bout.

Lightweight—

Finley vs. Mills. The former again demonstrated the all around ability which had featured his first three fights. In Mills he had a clever and determined opponent whose high guard was so often effective against Finley's darting left. Both landed numerous clean blows, the edge being in Finley's favour, while his footwork and general defence were plainly superior to Mills' best efforts. This contest also received lively popular support.

Welterweight—

Whittall vs. Chambers. The latter's awkward but effective style seemed to baffle his opponent through the first two rounds. Yet with height and reach in his favour, Chambers found it hard to break through Whittall's sound defence. When he got in close Whittall usually contrived to land several clean hits but often had to take in exchange a high swing to the head. In round three Whittall really took up the attack and by smart blocking and hitting piled up the winning points. The boxers shared the ovation which followed.

Middleweight—

Kenny I vs. Stewart. Kenny I supplied the skill, his opponent the colour, which featured this bout. The frequent rallies were short but included plenty of hits, about equally divided. Kenny had a damaging right and Stewart a whip-like straight left, both of which often registered. The battlers slowed up towards the finish because of the heavy exchanges of the first two rounds. In general ring ability Kenny had a slight but obvious margin, thereby winning a good bout the hard way.

School Championship—

Powis vs. Dodds. Conceding 25 pounds in weight, Powis opened fast and rattled in a flurry of light blows as the boxers met in mid-ring. Stung into action Dodds lashed out with fast and crushing straight lefts and rights to face and body. The fierceness of his onset paralyzed Powis' defence and within half a minute the latter was helpless. Dodds won this brief but stunning contest by a technical K.O. and rules B.C.S. boxing as School Champion for 1938-39.

June Closing

JUNE 15TH, 1938

"Sherbrooke Record"—

"To give honor where honor is due, may I say that among those boys who are leaving us this term there is not one who has not distinguished himself in one way or another, and there are some who by their constant thoughtfulness, their good sense, their good humor and by their sense of duty have materially strengthened the fibre of the school." This outspoken tribute to the boys of Bishop's College School was expressed yesterday afternoon by the Headmaster, Mr. Crawford Grier, upon the occasion of the school closing and the distribution of athletic awards. A large and impressive gathering of parents, relatives and friends of the scholars attended the closing exercises held on the school grounds under ideal weather conditions.

Mr. Grier remarked that this was an opportune time to wish Godspeed to "those who are leaving us, to thank them for their many contributions to the life of the school and to assure them of our lively interest in their welfare". He made particular reference to two senior prefects, William Doheny and George Buch, for their effort in maintaining the school's high and enviable standard. The Headmaster expressed regret at the departure of Miss M. MacCallum, matron of the school for the past twenty-five years.

"We are assembled here primarily to give an air of verisimilitude to an act which I can only describe as a vulgar division of the spoils," Mr. Grier said in his address. "However, I should like to say a word of greeting to you all, and to repeat that it is a constant source of pleasure and gratification to us to see so many parents and friends of the School at our prize-givings and our closings. The Director of Protestant Education in this province, Dr. W. P. Percival, has found time to be with us to-day and our chairman, Mr. Paul Sise, has rounded out the occasion by consenting to present the prizes. We welcome them both most heartily."

In bidding farewell to Miss MacCallum the Headmaster quoted the School Magazine that "her thoughtfulness, her obvious reluctance to judge anyone harshly, her sense of justice and absolute honesty of purpose and, perhaps above all, her beautiful disposition will be an enduring influence at B.C.S."

The School magazine also said of Miss MacCallum: "For twenty-five years Miss MacCallum has tended B.C.S. boys with loving care and even the most arrant young rascals were always sure of a safe haven after the storm. Speaking for all Old Boys whom we have ever heard express their opinion, we express, for them, their deep gratitude to one for whom they had a most affectionate regard. One and all we express simply, our deep-felt regret that she has decided to leave us. We fully realize our inadequacy to adequately do matron justice, that would require a book on school life with matron as heroine."

"Lovely and pleasant has been her influence in our lives here," Mr. Grier added: "If I could add anything to that I would say that matron possesses to a superlative degree the faculty of rising to the occasion. Every prize giving, every closing, scores of visiting teams, the centenary—in the background matron's faultless arrangements. This then is one of matron's occasions."

Mr. Paul Sise also added his regret at the pending departure of Miss MacCallum after so many years of faithful service.

Dan Doheny, on behalf of the Old Boys, presented Miss MacCallum with a gift as a tangible expression of their gratitude. Billy Doheny presented her with a bouquet of red roses from the present students, the Headmaster and the staff. In voicing her deep appreciation and thanks, Miss MacCallum expressed the hope that her successor would be as happy as she had been during the twenty-five years she has been connected with B.C.S.

Visitors present included Rt. Rev. Bishop Lennox Williams; Mr. Justice C. Gordon Mackinnon, Montreal; Dr. W. P. Percival, Director of Protestant Education in the Province of Quebec, and P. E. Sise, Chairman, and other members of the Board of Directors.

Parents and friends of the boys included: Lord Shaughnessy, Air Vice-Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., and Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. J. P. Anglin, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Burgess, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Byers, Mrs. R. 3 LEGGED HANDICAP—440 yds.

(1)—Bols and W. T. Emmet

(2)—Heneker and Joly

(3)—McFarlane and Macrae

This was, perhaps, the most amusing race of the day. The entries were plentiful, and the two smallest boys in the School won. It is only fair to them to say that they would have had the same good fortune had their start been very much less than in fact it was.

NOTE: Bols—General Sir Louis Bols, Allenby's Chief of Staff. . . . Later Governor of Bermuda.

Heneker—General Sir W. C. G. Heneker, A.D.C. to King Edward.

Joly—General Gustave Joly de Lotbiniere, R.E.

Thanksgiving Day

PRESENTATION OF PRIZES

OCTOBER 11TH, 1938

AN UNUSUALLY LARGE GATHERING OF PARENTS, RELATIVES AND FRIENDS
OF THE SCHOOL ATTENDED

We take the following from the Montreal Daily Star:

A review of the activities at Bishop's College School during the School's 101st year by Mr. C. G. M. Grier, headmaster, presentation of prizes by Senator A. Knatchbull Hugessen and the defeat of the Old Boys' football team by the School 6-2, featured prize giving day at the School yesterday.

In his review of the year's activities, Mr. Grier made special mention of the success of Percival Molson who, with marks of 87 per cent, was first in the province in senior matriculation. He also won one of the new entrance scholarships to McGill University and is the first B.C.S. boy to enter the university as a "scholar."

Although the headmaster reported the matriculation results were "mediocre" he expressed gratification that three boys had done so well. These, he said, were Molson; H. M. Burgess, who was awarded the Governor-General's Medal; and Lester Tomlinson, who led science candidates in senior matriculation.

13 BOYS PASSED

Eleven boys passed the junior matriculation and two the senior, Mr. Grier stated. First year candidates who took the McGill examinations encountered a stumbling block in the French tests, he added.

As the result of a new syllabus linking the preparatory and upper schools, 11 boys from the former were promoted to the fourth form of the middle school.

To provide encouragement for boys interested in dramatics, the headmaster announced that an architect had been commissioned to draw up plans for a stage in the school gymnasium.

Turning to the School's record in sports, Mr. Grier said that it had done well. B.C.S. athletes took second place in the Eastern Townships track meet. The football team again won the Shirley Russell Cup. The cricket team won both its inter-school matches. The hockey team captured the Ashbury Old Boys' Association Cup. A team of boys under 14, in the preparatory school, won the local bantam hockey league championship and a team of boys under 16 won the local midget league championship.

Much interest was also shown, Mr. Grier reported, in boxing, badminton and gymnasium work.

CADETS WIN CUP

For the third year in succession the school's cadet corps, commanded by Cadet Major I. A. MacLean, won the Strathcona Cup for military efficiency in the province.

Invitations for the school's choir to appear in Montreal, Drummondville and Toronto were being considered, the headmaster stated. He had much praise for the work of Mr. Page, the choir's director.

Last year's enrolment of 154 boys was the largest in the school's history, Mr. Grier said.

The board of directors regretted, he said, the resignation of Miss Martha MacCallum, who has been associated with the School since 1913. Mrs. Mary Boyle of Montreal, has been appointed to succeed her. Henry T. Holden, B.A., of Bishop's College, has been appointed to replace C. F. Carson, who is resigning after three years on the staff of the preparatory school. He has accepted an appointment as house master at Upper Canada College, Toronto. The headmaster paid high tribute to Mr. Carson for his excellent influence over the smaller boys and his capability as coach of the senior football team.

VISITORS WELCOMED

Col. V. G. Whitehead, president of the Old Boys' Association, congratulated the school and the headmaster on its academic and athletic achievements and welcomed all parents and friends to the school.

Congratulations to Mr. Grier and his staff were also tendered by Senator Hugessen. He impressed upon the boys the necessity of taking the greatest interest in their studies.

Jackson Dodds, after the presentation of prizes, thanked Senator Hugessen for officiating.

On the platform with the Senator were Right Rev. P. Carrington, Bishop of Quebec, Colonel Whitehead and Mr. Grier.

The day started with the School Old Boys' football match, in which the school team made a touchdown in the closing minutes of play. After the game visitors were the guests of the school at lunch. In the afternoon a tea and dance was held, at which girls from King's Hall, Compton, were guests.

THE PREPARATORY SCHOOL CLOISTERS

*Here many a hero dreamed his dreams,
They've done you honour due;
We are custodians of their fame,
And we love honour too.
And we shall walk by sunny ways
Through all life's joys and fears,
Recalling your recondite lore
Adown the blue of years.*

With thirty-four boys, seventeen being new this year, the Prep has had an active and pleasant term, and, at the time of going to press, we seem to have set ourselves a record for absence of colds and other illnesses. Only one boy has had to spend any time in the infirmary, and the Prep sickroom has not been used at all.

The new boys this term are:—J. Anderson, J. Beatson, F. Boright, W. Boyle, J. Bouet-Willaumez, J. Boyd, R. Eaton, R. Fallon, R. Pitfield, R. Stairs, D. Stoker, D. Struthers, D. Taylor, R. Taylor, C. Wanklyn, F. Willcox, J. Williams.

As Mr. H. T. Holden, B.A., has now been with us for three months, and was not entirely a newcomer in the first place, having spent the last three years at Bishop's University, it seems rather late to "welcome" him at this point. He has entered enthusiastically into all our pursuits, and we are very glad to have him with us.

Soccer.

This season's Soccer team, coached by Mr. Evans and with Mr. Page as chief technical adviser without whose expert counsel we should have been lost, turned in a most satisfactory account of itself.

The first match, on October 29th, was against Selwyn House at B.C.S. There was no score in the first half, but in the second half the Prep piled up three goals to Selwyn House's one, making the final score 3 to 1.

On November 5th, the Prep played L.C.C.'s under 15 team on the L.C.C. grounds, and in the first half scored two goals. In the latter half of the game, playing one man short owing to Hugessen's injury, the Prep scored two more, and L.C.C. got one, making the result B.C.S. 4, L.C.C. 1.

PREPARATORY SCHOOL SOCCER TEAM, 1938

Standing—R. EATON, W. A. PAGE, ESQ., W. PITFIELD, S. DAY, W. BOYLE, R. L. EVANS, ESQ. J. SEWELL.
 Sitting—R. McCURDY, C. FLINTOFT, A. FINLEY, R. McMASTER, (Capt.), L. LEMIEUX, D. McLIMONT, A. HUGESSEN.

The following Monday found the Prep at the Westmount Athletic Grounds playing a return match against Selwyn House, which, though it does not appear so from the score, was probably the hardest and closest game of the season. B.C.S. scored two in the first half, and three before the final whistle, while Selwyn House scored one. Final score: Prep 5; S.H.S. 1.

The Prep team was as follows:—Forwards—McMaster (captain), Finley, Lemieux, Flintoft, Pitfield; Halves—McCurdy, Boyle, Huggessen; Backs—Day, McLimont; Goal—Eaton; Sub.—Sewell.

The second crease Soccer was in the charge of Mr. Holden, and though most of the boys on that crease had never played the game before remarkable progress was made, and players were produced who will no doubt be the stars of the Prep team in the future.

Three matches were played by the Prep against the Old Prep boys, now in the Upper School, resulting in 4-1 and 1-0 wins for the Prep and a 2 all tie. W. C. P.

The Prep Choir.

The Prep Choir started off with eighteen members this term, and was brought up to twenty a fortnight later. Dodds, Finley, Flintoft, Holley, Huggessen, Ker, Lemieux, McCurdy, McMaster, Pitfield I, Scott and Sewell have been retained from last year, while the following new boys have been taken in:—Boright, Boyle, Boyd, Beatson, Fallon, Peverley, Stairs and Wanklyn. A number of new hymns and arrangements have been sung during the course of the term, and at the Thanksgiving Day service an anthem was rendered most effectively. S. D.

The Camera C'ub.

The Camera C'ub, this year under the direction of Mr. Holden, started operations early in the term. There are fourteen members from whom at the first meeting of the year the following executive was elected: President, McLimont; Secretary Treasurer, McMaster; Librarian, Dodds; Assistant Librarian, Ker. Several meetings have been held, during which different problems have been discussed. Each member is now learning how to develop and print pictures, and special hours for working in the dark room are being arranged, so that each member gets an opportunity. All pictures taken by members of the club are shown on the Epidiaskope at a meeting, and are criticized or praised. Next term the club hopes to raise sufficient money to give prizes to boys with the best pictures.

R. McM.

The Library.

The Prep Library is proving as popular as ever, and about 85 new books have been added this term, so that our shelves are now reasonably full. In addition to fiction we now have a large number of books dealing with many aspects of life, books describing modern ships, planes, engineering, and dealing with such widely differing subjects as play production and deep sea diving. McLimont and Huggett, as Librarians, have been doing an excellent job.

Pictures and Maps Presented

In the middle of November Dr. and Mrs. Lindsay presented the Prep with two framed pictures. One is an etching of the Bonsecours Market in Montreal, and the other a print of the Rue des Recollets in the Upper Town of Quebec. Both are very interesting.

Mr. A. A. Scott of Quebec has given us four large-scale maps of the country surrounding the school. They are being framed, and will be used for reference before we go on ski-trips and bicycle hikes.

We wish to thank Dr. and Mrs. Lindsay and Mr. Scott very much for their kindness and thoughtfulness. D. McL.

Armistice Day.

Armistice Day dawned bright and clear, with that nip in the air that made one feel that it was good to be alive. Consequently everybody was eager to be out and about. Some chose the woods in which to track each other down, while others played "yards" on the soccer field. Several ambitious boys worked at levelling the ground for an outdoor rink, and others at moving boulders from a ski-hill. At 11 o'clock the two minutes' silence was duly observed.

In the afternoon it clouded over, and we heard rumours of a mass activity. It appeared that there was to be a game of "Messengers and Defenders" on Moulton Hill. After several swift chases which left boys hanging over fences exhausted we all went to the Prep hut for sandwiches and "pop". A hearty supper followed at the school, and then bed for a crew of tired boys. A. K-H.

The Outdoor Rink.

This year the Prep hopes to have an outdoor rink, behind the building, to supplement the big rink. We started work levelling the ground with shovels, rakes, and a scoop. This last was pulled for one afternoon by a team of horses, and later by gangs of boys, and sometimes by Mr. Evans's car. Eventually, and just before the frost set in in earnest, the work was fairly well completed, with a stone wall at one end to prevent the earth from being washed away in the spring. R. S.

Lectures.

On a Sunday evening in mid-term we were visited by the Reverend Russell Brown who gave us a most interesting talk on the Fellowship of the West, illustrating his lecture with slides.

Towards the end of the term we witnessed a demonstration of a "talkie" machine from the Associated Screen News, and were shown not only the workings of the projector and its sound apparatus, but also a number of entertaining sound films.

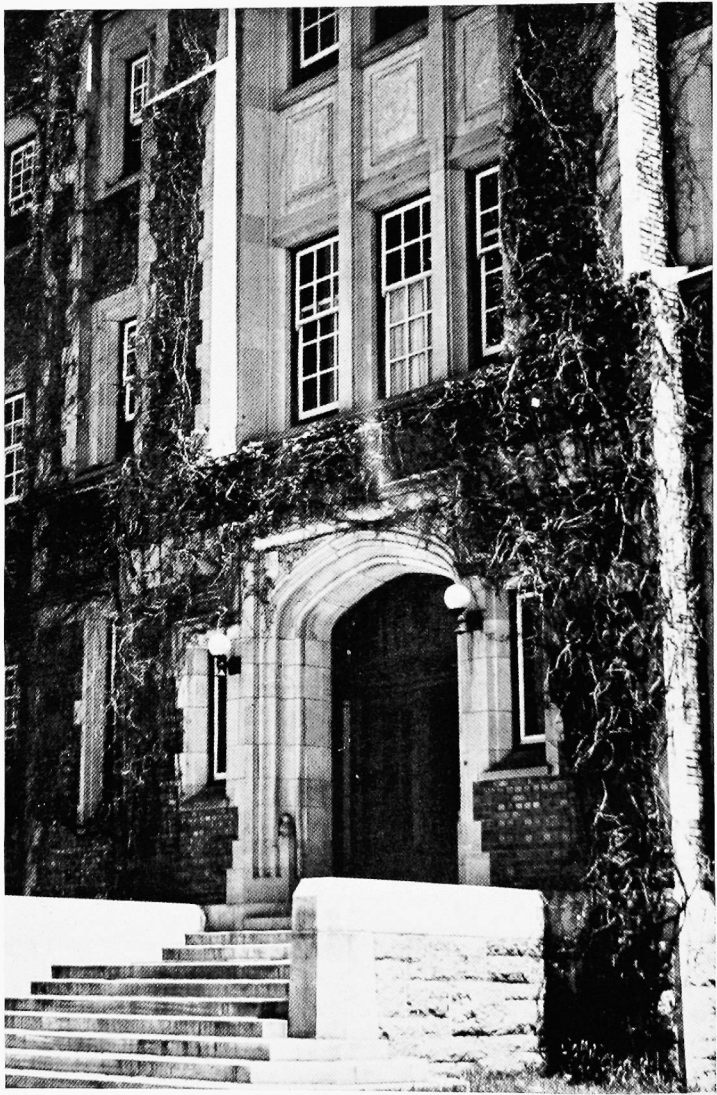

Mr. Carson.

What news we have heard of Mr. C. F. Carson, who left us last June, indicates that he is enjoying his new job at Upper Canada College Prep in Toronto, and that he has not only been doing fine work in the teaching line but also in the coaching of the Prep rugby team. We all hope that he will find an opportunity to visit us before the school year is over.

The Prep Huts.

Much time is now being spent on the larger of the Prep huts, and every afternoon the woods ring to the sound of axe and saw, and the grunts of boys moving stones and logs as the foundations of the hut are laid. This hut will be about twenty-one feet by fourteen when complete, and we hope that at some time in the future it will boast a stone fireplace.

So to all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year—and, to those who are going to try out for the Prep Bantam Hockey team next term, go easy on the Plum Puddings!

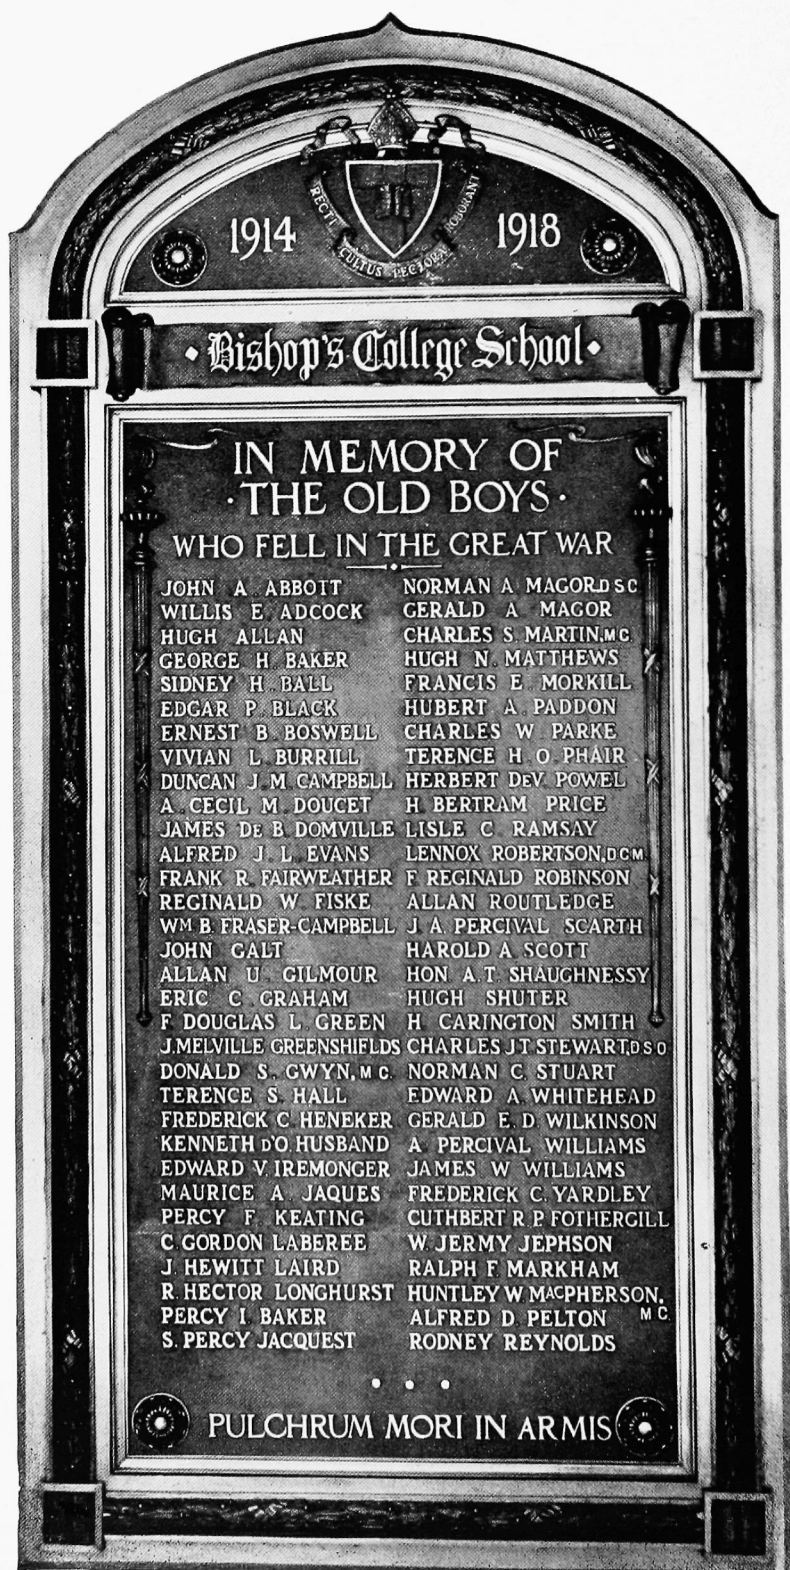

MAIN ENTRANCE

In freedom here we wandered far
 And here we loved to ride;
 Where Francis' sacred waters meet
 The Massawippi tide.

In the silence of the school-room, among the desks
 deserted,
 Ink-stained and marred by marks of many hands,
 Through the windows in the moon-light by driving
 rain-clouds skirted,
 Come the visions of Old Boys from many lands.
 And quietly and mournfully they take their well-
 known places,
 And their books lie open by them on the form,
 And they see, as in a mist-wraith, the old forgotten
 faces
 With the scar-marks of the world's eternal storm.

Leaving the latter institution he went over to England to pursue his studies at Trinity College, Cambridge, where he was a student in the faculty of arts. He returned to this city and entered the faculty of law at the old Laval University, the present University of Montreal, where he graduated in 1910 with a LL.M. degree.

He was admitted to the Bar the same year he graduated from university and joined the firm of Meredith, Macpherson, Hague and Holden. He was admitted as a partner in the firm one year later.

A brilliant soldier, he was well liked by his men and fellow officers and was mentioned in despatches.

After the armistice he returned to Montreal and was promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel in 1920 upon the amalgamation of the Irish-Canadian Rangers with the 199th Irish Rangers. He held the command of this regiment until 1926.

A short time after he returned from France Lord Shaughnessy was elected to the directorate of the Canadian Pacific Railway and in a few years was playing an important role in Canadian business affairs.

Upon the death of his father in 1923, Lord Shaughnessy succeeded to his title and in 1927 went to London, England, where he fulfilled one of the many traditional functions of his office when he took his seat in the House of Lords.

A keen enthusiast of both golf and tennis, Lord Shaughnessy was a member of numerous clubs around Montreal, including the Mount Royal Club, the St. James Club, the Montreal Jockey Club, the Montreal Club, the Carlton Club and the Marlborough Club, London, England.

Gordon Stott, D.D., officiated at the marriage ceremony.

R. M. C. Notes

BOSWELL., R. K. Robert in his second year now is carrying on the good work. He was a very valuable member of the Track and Harrier teams, the Track team having done particularly well this year. He played inter-company rugby for his Company which won the championship.

ALEXANDER, J. O. J. O. is now in his senior year and as usual is doing awfully well. He is second senior sergeant and in addition to this he has one of the best arms in the College. J. O. also played outside on First Team Rugby and took a prominent part in helping to win the Dominion Inter-Collegiate finals.

McGill Notes

STEWART ALLEN, Com. 1. Stew has been making himself quite conspicuous by disagreeing with the co-eds, remember Stew? He has been playing hockey with the juniors, and hopes some day to be a little corporal in the C.O.T.C.

PETER BARROTT, B.A. 3. Pete has been putting in his usual attendance at all the dances. However, his attendance at lectures is not as complete.

HARRISON BENNETT, B.A. 1. Harrison is right in the whirl of college life. He was taking part in the English plays until he injured his arm.

MALCOLM BYERS, B.A. 3. Frog is his usual self, but is being kept busy with his art school classes and is, we believe, attending some lectures.

EDWARD BOOTHROYD, Law 2. Boots was seen driving around in an undertaker's coach. Of course, the young lawyer must start somewhere.

H. M. BURGESS, B.A. 1. Timmie has started out on a busy year. He was elected president of first year, and is acting in the English plays. Besides all this he has been a very frequent visitor of the R.V.C. Playboy Burgess now sports a green Tyrolean hat.

IAN COLLINS, Com. 4. Rip seems to be getting around a great deal and, as far as we know, he still enjoys his namesake.

HERB. COLDITZ, Eng. 2. Herb, as far as we can tell, has been working as well as may be expected for a "plumber".

GUY DRUMMOND, Law 2. Guy is mostly occupied with his English car which is seen around the campus sometimes.

ROBERT DUNCAN, Med. 2. Meds have a habit of disappearing and working. That is all we know about "Sleepy."

IAN GILLESPIE, B.Sc. Gilles is very busy planning another summer trip, but he is seen around college occasionally.

WARREN HALE, B.A. 1. Wal is still smiling; maybe it is because he still thinks it is funny not having to go around the corner for a smoke.

JOHN KEMP, Eng. 1. John intends to win a scholarship this year and has been working very hard so far, unfortunately snow brings skiing and skiing brings

BOB KENNY, Eng. 4. "Bucko" was one of the stars on the championship team this year, but he has not let this interfere with his work so that he should do well this Spring.

PERCY LESLIE, B.A. 2. "Rip" sees no point in rushing through college in four years, or maybe five. Someone recently asked "Rip" why he did not have a haircut, he replied quietly "too tired."

D'ARCY LYNCH, LAW 3. Was last seen wearing red flannel underwear to a football game, maybe he has learned something.

BILL DOHENY, ARTS P. Bill is entering into the spirit of college life and seems to enjoy it very much. He tells us that he is very interested in his classes at the Art Gallery.

JACK CROSS, B.A. 4. Jack is kept busy with the Red and White Revue this year, but still hopes to pass in June.

LAWRENCE MCDougALL, B.A. 4. Doug was at his happiest during the September crisis. Now he has to content himself with trying to pacify the French Dept. who were so rude to him last June.

P. T. MOLSON, B.A. 2. Pete is leading a busy life this year, work and play. Pete is finding out that they don't mix. Scholar Molson is behind in his work—mirabile dictu.

BILL NORRISH, LAW 1. Bill played on the intermediate football team this year, but has been finding time to work somehow.

RICHARD PECK, B.Sc. 3. Rich has, as usual, been working very hard, but has been seen around at different times.

ERIC PHELPS, B.Sc. 1. Eric is living at Douglas Hall and seems to enjoy it very much.

BILL RITCHIE, B.A. 3. Bill has been seen in the Arts Building; maybe he is working, maybe?

HUGH SETON, B.Sc. 1. Hugh is seen around in bow ties, etc., and seems to be enjoying college life very much.

DAVID SKELTON, ARCH. 4. Dave is seen on very rare occasions presumably working very hard. He is, however, seen at the different clubs around town.

ERIC HUTCHISON, B.A. 1. "Butch" is taking the lead in Alladin and has to make love on the stage—maybe he did learn something in Switzerland last year.

HUGH DOHENY, LAW 2. Hugh is being kept rather busy by his work, but nevertheless finds time to get around a good deal.

DAN DOHENY, B.A. 4. Dan is at last completing his five year plan. He hopes to graduate this year. Hockey and two lectures a week seem to keep him occupied.

PETER McENTYRE, COM. 4. We do not see Pete often, but we understand that he plays squash and intends to do some skiing this winter.

WILLIAM TYNDALE, B.A. 2. Bill is doing a great deal of work in the C.O.T.C. and has managed to recruit four of the boys who left school last year.

THOMAS MONTGOMERY, LAW 3. Tommy has been seen around at the football games acting as an usher. He hopes to graduate in Law this year and we feel sure that he will succeed.

Back Row—O. POPE, EDMUND BURKE, S. WADE, F. CAMPBELL, PAUL SISE, H. McGREEVY, J. WINDER, MAURICE BARRETTO.

Second Row—ARTHUR ROWLEY, J. MOIR, C. F. ROTHERA, HARTLAND MacDOUGALL, E. H. McLEA, A. U. GILMOUR.

U. B. C. Notes

MACKENZIE, HUGH E.—B.A. 1.

Hugh is his usual ruddy self. He took part in one of the three one-act plays recently produced, in fact he had quite a sizable part and did it justice. Besides, he is a staunch supporter of co-education ! In addition he is a prominent member of the B.C.C.O.T.C.

SHAUGHNESSY, LORD.—B.A. 1.

"Shag" turned out for football, and despite being knocked cold in the MacDonald game, had a most enjoyable season. Since football finished he has done very little except the occasional spot of work. Shag has also joined the C.O.T.C. and is not in the Band.

STAIRS, GILBERT M. S.—B.A. 1.

"Gib", although now on the opposite side of the St. Francis, is still tickling the old ivories with the usual amount of success. The next time you see him ask him if he can play "My Reverie". Gib's football was cut short by a leg injury, but he turned to Drama and appeared with great success in one of the three one-act plays. He too is preparing for war in the C.O.T.C.

TOMLINSON, C. L.—B.Sc. 1.

Lester played soccer this fall. He is noted as a conscientious and hard working Freshman. He is pursuing his photography with a good deal of success, and may be seen around the campus trailing all kinds of "scopes", meters and lenses. We regret to say that at the present time he is laid up with chicken pox.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING AND BANQUET

The Annual General Meeting of the Association was held at the Mount Royal Hotel on Saturday, December 10th. M. E. Beckett, C. E. Price and Robert McLernon were elected Directors of the Association to replace G. V. Whitehead, E. Miall and H. Weir Davis, who were retiring.

The annual banquet was held immediately after the meeting and was attended by an enthusiastic gathering of over eighty Old Boys. Among these were many of the oldest and most distinguished members of the Association, but the Committee was especially gratified to note the large number of Old Boys who left the School within the past two or three years who showed their continuing interest in it by being present.

Col. C. B. Price, D.S.O., D.C.M., V.D., delivered an interesting and most timely address on the history and aims of the Canadian Militia. The Headmaster gave an account of the School's activities during the past year and showed moving pictures of life at the School, most of them in colour.

OLD BOYS' TIES

Gibb Carsley ('22-'26) reports that the sale of the Old Boys' Tie has been most encouraging. They may be bought at the store of Gibb & Co., 226 St. James Street West, Montreal. The price is $2.50. The Association hopes that every Old Boy will buy one of these ties and wear it as often as possible.

NEW MEMBERS

The Association welcomes the following new members who have just completed their studies at the School:

J. S. Allan	C. A. DesBaillets	H. W. Seton	P. T. Molson
W. G. Anglin	Wm. Doheny	J. F. E. Pratt	H. E. Mackenzie
Garth Beckett	G. D. Gass	E. L. Phelps	D. A. Johnston
G. E. Buch	Jack Goodson	H. F. Packard	P. H. A. Hertzberg
H. M. Burgess	R. S. S. Grier	I. A. MacLean	A. J. M. Hersey
	W. M. Hale	R. J. McDonald, Jr.

It is hoped that all the Old Boys who have not yet paid their dues for the year 1938-39 will do so at once. The dues are three dollars, of which one dollar is for the Old Boys' Scholarship, one dollar for the Magazine, and one dollar for general expenses, which include at present a contribution towards the Centenary Campaign Fund. Cheques should be sent to G. H. Montgomery Jr., P.O. Box 250, Place d'Armes, Montreal, made payable to the Association.

It was with deep regret that the Association learned of the death of the RIGHT HONOURABLE LORD SHAUGHNESSY ('94-'00). His son, the Honourable Graham Shaughnessy, who has just finished his studies at the School, succeeds to the title and is the only holder of an inherited Canadian title now resident in Canada.

PAUL F. SISE ('92-'96), President of the newly formed Canadian Associated Aircraft Ltd., and G. H. MONTGOMERY, K.C. ('86-'89), have recently returned from England where they went to negotiate a contract for the manufacture of aircraft for the British Government.

SIR H. MONTAGU ALLAN ('71-'76), has offered to place his Montreal residence, "Ravenscrag" at the disposition of Their Majesties when they visit Canada next Spring.

We regret that COL. VIC. WHITEHEAD ('08-'14), the President of the Old Boys' Association, is unable to attend the Annual Banquet because he has recently undergone a minor operation.

MAJOR E. DE L. GREENWOOD ('03-'10), the Vice-President of the Association, has also recently undergone a minor operation, but has fully recovered.

G. D. McGOWAN, of the Kenya Police Force, returned to Canada for a holiday this summer, but is now back in Africa.

HUGH MONTGOMERY ('19-'23), who has been working in Toronto, has returned to Montreal.

BOB MONTGOMERY ('22-'26), who designed the new wing of the School, is now in Stanstead supervising the rebuilding of the College which was destroyed by fire.

The engagement of DR. JOHN MEAKINS ('24-'29), to Miss Mildred Learmonth of Montreal, was recently announced. He is now at Harvard where he holds a fellowship in the Department of Bacteriology.

DON MARKEY ('22-'29), who spent last winter in France, is now practising law in Montreal.

IAN BREakey ('25-'29), won several prizes at the Hussars' Horse Show at Montreal and has recently exhibited his horses at the Royal Winter Fair, Ottawa.

WILF. JOHNSTON ('27-'30), now a doctor of Dental Surgery, is back at McGill doing post graduate work. Last summer he accompanied a tour of school boys, including a number of B.C.S. boys, to England. Lord Tweedsmuir, who crossed on the same ship, came to see the boys and Wilf reports that he exhibited particular interest in B.C.S.

DICK PAYAN ('26-'30), who has been working in Toronto, is now with the Crestol Refinery Ltd. of Lachine.

DAVE RANKIN ('27-'33), has gone to Kirkland Lake to work for the Canadian Equipment Co.

BOB McLERNON ('26-'30), who has been working in New York, is back in Montreal.

OGGIE GLASS ('28-'32), has now joined HUGH MARTIN ('06-'08) and IAN OGILVIE ('23-'29) on the staff of the Montreal Gazette.

RONNIE BENNETT ('30-'35), is studying law at Osgoode Hall, Toronto.

J. F. E. PRATT ('38), is spending the winter at Daytona Beach, Florida.
